County, state vote Tuesday

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A turnout of about 60 percent of the total voter registration in Tuesday's general election was predicted today by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles as her office finalized preparations for tomorrow's balloting in the county's 222 precincts.

Polling places will open in the Quad-

Cities and throughout the rest of the county at 6 a.m. The polls will close at 6 p.m. and results will be reported directly to the county clerk's office where early final returns are anticipated this year because of the new punch card system of voting.

Miss Bowles said today that her estimate "may be high" because of an apparent lack of interest in the referendum proposal to place a ceiling on state taxes.

"I thought there would be tremendous interest in the amendment ballot, but it doesn't look that way," she said.

Weekend preparations included a move by State's Attorney Nicholas Byron, through the county clerk's office, to "make this the most honest and fraud-free election in the history of the county."

Miss Bowles said the state's attorney's office has prepared a special "complaint form" which any person with complaints

Biby is challenged on Rizzi comment

A statement last week by Republican sheriff candidate Robert Biby that he feels Robert Rizzi, chief deputy of the Madison County Sheriff's Department, would do a good job in running the department under an interim sheriff, resulted in criticism this week by persons who feel Biby might make Rizzi a chief aide, if elected.

Critics pointed out that Rizzi was indicted by a Madison grand jury in August 1970 allegedly for filing improper mileage reimbursement claims, and that in the late 1970s he invoked his Fifth Amendment rights before a grand jury prior to the 1978 trial of three Madison officers on racketeering charges.

Biby, in a statement in Thursday's Press-Record, said he felt Sheriff John Maeras should resign, with Madison County Coroner Dallas Burke by law filling the vacancy until a new sheriff is elected Nov. 7 and seated Dec. 1.

"From a practical standpoint, Robert Rizzi, chief deputy, would continue to run the department and from my past association with Rizzi, I feel he would do a good job," Biby said.

The article brought immediate reaction from a few who have been associated with the sheriff's department and do not feel Rizzi should continue to "run" the department under a new sheriff.

Sheriff John Maeras is not seeking reelection, apparently due to allegations made against him by federal authorities and now by a federal grand jury.

An Aug. 27, 1970, Press-Record article shows that charges against Rizzi and the late Dennis Nicholas, both sheriffs department investigators under former Sheriff George Musso, were dropped by Madison County State's Attorney R. W. Griffith with the notation that Sheriff Musso could take disciplinary action against them under the merit commission, if deemed proper.

It was alleged by the grand jury that the two filed mileage reimbursement claims for allegedly transporting prisoners in their private autos, when sheriff's department cars were or should have been available.

The grand jury also issued a report critical of the sheriff and the County Board of Supervisors for failure to provide sufficient funds to reimburse deputies who have to use private cars for investigation and the serving of subpoenas.

The shortage of funds for use of private cars for investigative duties, at 15-cents-per-mile, plus the 20-cent-per-mile reimbursement for transporting prisoners, combined to entice many deputies to claim funds for prisoner transportation, rather than for investigative work, the grand jury concluded.

On June 27 of this year, during the racketeering and perjury trial of former Madison policemen Ronald Gryzwacz, Edward Golan and Richard Krieshek, grand jury transcripts were entered as evidence. They showed that Rizzi invoked his Fifth Amendment rights against possible self-incrimination in relation to answer a question.

(The question was, "Have you ever been

Four county board races

Seven members of the Madison County Board will be elected Tuesday in general election balloting in the Quad-City area, with Democratic candidates in three of the board districts already certain to win their seats because they have no opposition, but spirited competition for other posts.

Campaigns for the board memberships in the other four districts have been marked by heavy campaign activity. In all four instances, incumbent board members are faced with opposition.

The Quad-City race for County Board seats has been highlighted primarily in the campaigns in District 16 (Chouteau Township) where incumbent Board Member Walter "Dick" Sparks is himself the independent candidate, and in District 28 (Nameoki Township) where incumbent Louis Whitsett is opposed by a Republican candidate and also by an independent.

In District 16, which is made up of Chouteau precincts 1, 2, 4, 5, 6 and 7 and Nameoki precinct 3, Sparks sought

JUNIOR MISS Bonnie Luebbert is crowned last night.

Bonnie is Jr. Miss

Miss Bonnie Luebbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Luebbert, and a senior at Granite City High School South, was crowned Granite City's 1979 Junior Miss last night at the South auditorium.

Miss Luebbert, one of ten high school senior girls vying for the title, also received a trophy for the highest score in the creative and performing arts portion of the program. She performed a classic solo ballet to win that honor.

First runner-up was Miss Diane Bason and second runner-up for the event was Karen Myracle.

John Auble, a television personality in St. Louis, was master-of-ceremonies for the evening.

Miss Pamela Tester, the 1978 Junior Miss from Granite City, crowned the new Junior Miss before an audience of more than 400.

Miss Tester did not participate in local competition last year but did enter the state level of competition as a contestant-at-large.

Miss Tester also was the chairperson of last night's pageant which encompassed the planning and coordinating of all aspects of the pageant since early August.

Miss Luebbert will advance to the statewide competition to be held during January in Bolingbrook, Ill.

Other special awards were presented to Miss Cindy York, also of South High, for the Spirit of Junior Miss. This award is selected by the contestants themselves.

The Scholastic Achievement award was presented to Miss Barbara Miller.

Entertainment for the evening included a dance routine by Miss Lea Salem, a North High student who has performed with the St. Louis Civic Ballet for four years. Also Phil Baker, accompanied by the Rev. William Young, sang two songs, one of them as Miss Tester made her final walk as Junior Miss of 1978.

All ten girls performed in the Youth Fitness Competition in which they did a dance routine to a popular disco tune "Boogie Shoes."

Also performing for the audience were the Madrigals from North High and the North band directed by Robert Todoroff.

Federal probe will expand

With four persons convicted and two others indicted up to this point, the federal grand jury investigation of Madison and Madison County is to be expanded, it was learned today. Numerous witnesses are being scheduled for grand jury testimony at Springfield next week, and also for the Maeras-Cooper trial that will begin Dec. 11 in Alton.

Although the investigation earlier seemed to have been progressing slowly, the mid-summer trial of three former Madison policemen triggered new developments, which in turn may lead to still more allegations.

Including the upcoming grand jury trial and jury deliberations, many sheriff deputies, former deputies and others are likely to be called to the witness stand, sources have indicated.

Those scheduled to be tried Dec. 11 are Sheriff John Maeras, who is concluding his second four-year term in that office, and his longtime chief of field operations, Captain John Cooper.

They were indicted Oct. 27 for conspiracy, false and fraudulent statements, subornation of perjury, and obstruction of justice.

Letter looming larger

A Feb. 1, 1974, letter by Sergeant Gary Lee Burns is looming ever larger as a factor in the long federal grand jury investigation of Madison County. The probe has now led to four convictions, including that of Burns, and two other indictments.

Addressed "to whom it may concern," the letter criticized Sheriff John Maeras for allegedly tolerating vice activity that the letter contended Burns had been investigating.

The letter continued, "I conducted these investigations with the help of Dennis Nicholas (former chief deputy who has since died). The payoffs we found out were picked up by Sgt. Ronnie Gryzwacz" (of the Madison police, and by another person, who was on the sheriff staff).

"They went to these places — Club J, Myrnan's Steak House, etc. — on the pretense of investigating payoffs to deputies.

"(One) thought the investigations were legitimate investigations he had no idea of a payoff until one day, (two persons) gave

Park bond plans total $1,785,000

An educational program to acquaint Granite City Park district residents with details of a proposed $1,785,000 improvement program was being organized by Park Board members today after finalizing the cost of the projects and setting Nov. 25 as the date of a referendum on a bond issue to finance the work.

The board authorized the improvements in a resolution adopted at a recessed meeting Thursday night by a 3 to 1 vote. A public meeting will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Nameoki Recreational Center to outline the proposed improvements and explain why they are needed. CYS to handle Madison truancy

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
The Madison Board of Education Thursday night approved a one-year contract with the Granite City Coordinated Youth Services to handle truancy problems of the Madison school district.

C. A. MacMillan, director of CYS which has an office in Madison as well as Granite City, explained CYS program services on truancy. The cost of the services is $2,500 per year.

"We set up a program in Granite City about eight years ago," MacMillan said. "We look at it as a way to help children back in school. We'd rather they come to us than run somewhere else."

"Truancy is symptom of something

DAV award to attorney

Attorney Gerald B. Cohn, a circuit judge candidate, was honored in Edwardsville ceremony Thursday with presentation of the Americanism Award of Disabled American Veterans Jack Graichen Memorial Chapter 90.

The award cited exceptional community service, and characteristics which exemplify Americanism. It has been given annually for 20 years.

Cohn is a Vietnam war veteran residing in Bethalto with his wife and three children and is a life member of the DAV.

Faces four charges

Earl T. Browning, 48, of 1918 Fourth St., Madison, was arrested last week with improper backing, driving the wrong way on a one-way street and two counts of leaving the scene of an accident after his auto allegedly backed from a driveway in the 2000 block of Washington Avenue into a parked pickup truck.

Paul Rensing, Trenton, Ill., the owner of the truck, alleged the car which struck the truck left the wrong way on Washington Avenue to 20th Street and West on 20th Street. Police located the car a short time later and arrested the driver.

NEW CURBS in the Lincoln Place area on Niedringhaus Avenue are poured by Granite City Street Department workers. The concrete work last week, however, resulted in some controversy as the concrete truck, while in the neighborhood, also poured a new apron for the private driveway at the home of Andy Balsie, 1632 Poplar St., a street department employee.

Street Superintendent Lionell Portell, located by the Press-Record in front of Balsie's home last week, commented, "Andy took a week of vacation to repair his driveway and some of the boys came over and poured some concrete for him. They should not have done it, but that's what happened," Portell said.

Richard McIntosh earns Lions President award

Lion Richard G. McIntosh, immediate past president of the Ponton Beach Lions Club, was awarded the Lions International 100 percent President Award during a special ceremony last week at the Lions Den in Ponton Beach.

The Lion award is awarded by the Lions International board of directors to Lion presidents that fulfill ten of 13 requirements set by the International. During McIntosh's year as president, 1977-78, the Lions Club of Ponton Beach met all 13 of the International requirements along with winning the Lions District 1-2 Club of the Year Award, District 1-G Candy Day Award, District 1-G CARE Award, and placed second in the 1-G in the District Governor's Point Contest.

The Ponton Beach Lions also led the district clubs in donating the largest sum of money towards community causes, and promoting more community service projects. Deputy District Governor Clay Brehan of the Edwardsville Lions Club and Zone Chairman Donald Patrick of the Ponton Beach Lions, shared in the ceremonies and presentation.

Patrick read from the letter he had received from Lions International Immediate Past President Joseph M. McLoughlin of Stamford, Conn. "It is my pleasure to inform you that Past President Richard G. McIntosh has been awarded the enclosed 100 percent Club President's Award for 1977-78 by the International Association of Lions Clubs."

"I would much appreciate your arranging for a fitting presentation, please extend my own and the personal thanks and congratulations of our officers and directors of our association for the leadership he has given."

McIntosh also gave special thanks to Patrick for assistance rendered during his year as president.

News notes

A former Southern Illinois University trustee, Arnold H. Marenmont, 74, died last week in New York, and funeral services will be held Wednesday in Glencoe, Ill. He served as chairman of the Illinois Public Aid Commission in the 1960s.

Governor James R. Thompson will seek an added $1,500,000 from the General Assembly this fall to start implementing recommendations of his 10-member Illinois Corrections study task force, which reports inadequate security, overcrowding, insufficient counseling and work programs and inconsistent policies at state prisons.

about the conduct of the election may fill out and sign. The forms are being distributed to the precinct polling places where they will be available to the election judges and citizens.

Byron also has sent a letter to all law enforcement agencies in the county, asking them to extend full cooperation to all election judges in the event of any incidents which may require their attention. Miss Bowles' estimated vote of 60 percent of the registered voters would mean that approximately 78,000 voters would go to the polls tomorrow. The voter registration for Tuesday's election countywide is 131,247, an increase of 180 over the total registration of 131,067 in the primary balloting last March.

Of the county's total registration, 37,379 are registered in the four townships of the Quad-City area—20,091 in Granite City Township, 6,880 in Nanticoke Township, 5,997 in Venice Township and 4,322 in Chouteau Township.

Should this estimate hold up, the vote would be far below that of the general election in November 1976 when a record county vote of 103,066 was set. That election, however, involved the spirited campaign between President Jimmy Carter and former President Gerald Ford at the top of the ballot.

Spreading interest in the current campaign is the race for state representative of the 56th Legislative District, which includes the Quad-Cities.

A bid by incumbent State Rep. Joe Lucco, an Edwardsville Democrat, to take one of three representative posts as an independent candidate following his defeat in primary balloting last March has created an intense campaign and resulted in an unusual situation in which three Democrats could be elected to the three legislative spots open on the ballot.

Jim McPike (D-Alton), an incumbent, and Sam W. Wolf (D-Granite City), a former state representative, captured the Democratic nominations in the primary. Wolf edged out Lucco by a slim plurality. Incumbent State Rep. Everett Steele of Glen Carbon was nominated for re-election on the Republican ballot, along with Janet Wilson of Granite City who later withdrew from the race.

Lucco then filed as an independent candidate on a ticket that also includes John Boush and Herman O. Edwards. State representatives will be elected under a cumulative system of voting by which a voter may vote for one, two or three candidates. By voting for one candidate, the voter gives that candidate three votes. Voting for two candidates will give each one and a half and voting for three candidates gives each one vote.

The three legislative candidates with the highest number of votes will win election to what traditionally has been two Democratic posts and one Republican post in Madison County.

Also attracting top attention in the campaign has been the election of a Madison County sheriff, an issue that has involved the morale of the sheriff's department and the prospective job of building up the department. John Maera, incumbent sheriff now under indictment on federal charges alleging conspiracy to cover up payoffs, did not seek re-election.

In that race is Emil Toffant of Madison, a former state police trooper and official for 30 years, seeking election on the Democratic ticket. He is opposed by Robert Billy on the Republican ticket. Billy also has campaigned on a record of experience in law enforcement.

The campaign for U.S. Senator between Alex Seith, Democrat of Chicago and incumbent Republican Charles H. Percy has attracted widespread interest, particularly since straw polls have indicated Seith is leading Percy in many areas of the state.

Three other candidates are on the ballot in the senator's election. They include Patricia Grogan of the Socialist Workers Party, Gerald M. Rose of the U.S. Labor Party and Bruce Green of the Libertarian Party.

For governor and lieutenant governor, incumbent Republican Governor James Thompson is opposed by Democrat Michael Bakalis in a heated fight that has marked the campaign trail in recent weeks. Dave C. O'Neal of Belleville, seeking lieutenant governor, is seeking county vote of 103,066 was set. That election, however, involved the spirited campaign between President Jimmy Carter and former President Gerald Ford at the top of the ballot.

Three other candidates also are on the ballot in the election of governor and lieutenant governor. They include Cecil I. Lampkin for governor and Dennis Brasky for lieutenant governor, running on the Socialist Workers ticket; Melvin Klenetay and David R. Hoffman on the U.S. Labor Party ticket, and Georgia Shields and Marj Kohls on the Libertarian ticket.

The three minority parties also have candidates for all other state offices open to election, including three seats as trustees of the University of Illinois. Incumbent Republican William J. Scott is seeking re-election as attorney general, opposed by Richard J. Try on the Democratic ticket. Other candidates include Guy C. Miller, Socialist Workers party; Richard D. Leebore, U.S. Labor, and Sheldon Waxman, Libertarian.

Alan J. Dixon, Democrat of Belleville and incumbent secretary of state, is opposed in his bid for re-election by Sharon Sharp on the Republican ballot. Also on the ballot are Marie Cobbs, Socialist Workers; Edward Waffie, U.S. Labor, and Ed May, Libertarian.

Roland W. Burris is the Democratic candidate for comptroller, opposed by John W. Castle on the Republican ballot. John Erikson is the Socialist Workers candidate and Carol Leebore is the U.S. Labor party candidate. Running on the Libertarian ticket is Mark B. Wallace.

For the state treasurer's office, Jerome A. Chentno is the Democratic candidate, while James M. Skelton is seeking the post on the Republican ticket. On the Socialist Workers ticket is Randi Lawrence. John H. Brown Jr. is the U.S. Labor candidate and Everett Moffat is the Libertarian candidate.

A Chentno in the Democratic candidate, while James M. Skelton is seeking the post on the Republican ticket. On the Socialist Workers ticket is Randi Lawrence. John H. Brown Jr. is the U.S. Labor candidate and Everett Moffat is the Libertarian candidate.

Also attracting top attention in the campaign has been the election of a Madison County sheriff, an issue that has involved the morale of the sheriff's department and the prospective job of Donoghue and Robert J. Webb, Democratic; Ralph C. Hahn, Park Livingston and Jane Hayes Radar, Republican; John Pottinger, Jo-Ann Della-Giustina and Lee Kall, Socialist Workers; Mitchell P. Hirsch, Suzanne Rose and Maureen Ravenscroft, U.S. Labor; and William Mitchell, James McCawley and John Adrian, Libertarian.

At the district level, Cong. Melvin Price, East St. Louis Democrat, is seeking re-election, opposed by Republican Dan Sisco, the 22nd congressional district which includes the Quad-City area. Incumbent Democratic State Senator Sam Vadala of Edwardsville also seeks re-election on the Democratic ticket, opposed by Gladys Lewis on the Republican ticket and Edward Baczewski who filed on the Citizens for Lucco ticket.

Three other candidates are without opposition on the Democratic ballot. They include Miss Bowles, seeking re-election as county clerk; Michael S. Henkhaus, seeking election as county treasurer, and Harold "Gene" Briggs, seeking re-election as regional school superintendent.

The campaign for election of a circuit judge to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of John Gifford also has highlighted local campaign activities. Seeking the judgeship are William E. "Bill" Johnson on the Democratic ticket, and Gerald Cohn on the Republican ticket.

The three propositions voters will find on their ballot cards involve a yes or no vote on a proposition to amend the Illinois constitution to impose ceilings on taxes and spending by the state of Illinois, units of local governments and school districts.

The other two also call for yes or no, one on a proposed amendment to the constitution providing for elimination of a Jan. 1, 1979, date for elimination of personal property taxes on corporations, partnerships and trusts, and the other on an amendment to the constitution that would exempt property of congressionally chartered veterans organizations from taxation.

deeper. Most of the youths want to attend school and be where the others are. Sometimes, because of other pressures, they just don't know how to go to school. The child's problem could range from not having shoes to being abused by their parents.

"The reason why a child does not attend school are as numerous as the number of children, and each is an individual, with a special problem."

"We try to help the child and his parents," MacMillan emphasized. "The CYS director explained that a preliminary letter is sent out to the parents of the child advising them that the child has several days of non-attendance."

The letter expresses concern and asks to meet with the parents to discuss the problem. If there is no response to the first letter, a second more strongly-worded letter is sent.

A personal contact is attempted, but if this fails a final letter is sent to the parents. When all attempts have failed with the parents and the child, court action is sought.

CYS then will file formal charges in the circuit court against the parents under Illinois law if the child is still truant. The director pointed out that the court can fine parents $500 and placed the parents on probation.

Superintendent of Schools John Palchick, after the board approved the contract with CYS, presented a list of 15 habitual truants to CYS. The board went on record urging everyone to vote yes on the blue ballot for the proposed Amendment to Section 5 of Article 9 of the Illinois constitution.

A "yes" vote, the board believes, is a vote against any new taxes and will prevent local financial problems. Tammy Donaldson, 16, a junior at Madison High School, and Cindy Appony, 14, and MHS freshman, modeled their new MHS Cheerleader uniforms.

Board Member Mrs. Billie Bosworth, who was appointed to obtain the new uniforms, informed the board of the saving made by having two local ladies make them.

The uniforms were made by Mrs. Judy (Lybarger) Donaldson and her mother, Mrs. Anita Lybarger.

The ladies making the uniforms saved the board several hundred dollars, according to Mrs. Bosworth.

Concern was expressed by the board over a school bus that was to have made a special pickup of students, but did not do so. It was alleged that the driver picked up to the high school and then just left without checking with anyone.

Superintendent Palchick said, "All the driver had to do was come inside the building and see who had to be picked up. We are checking into this."

The bus driver is believed to have "pulled similar stunts" in the past, according to one board member.

Board President Sam Dymas expressed concern over the canceling of a freshman-sophomore football game scheduled Thursday evening.

The reason given was that many sophomores play on the varsity team and are needed for Friday's games against Granite City South.

Park

improvement, will be shown at a question and answer session will be conducted.

Board officials said that speakers also will be provided to explain the referendum before civic groups and service clubs.

The resolutions setting the improvement costs and calling the referendum were approved on the votes of Board Members Jake Hinterseer, George Sykes and Jeff Wrover. Barry Loman cast the only negative vote. Board member Robert Patrick was absent at the time the vote was taken.

The Nov. 25 date for a vote on a bond issue of $1,785,000 was chosen after a previous date of Dec. 2 presented a possible conflict with new state laws that might have delayed the election until next April.

The major improvement in the park program provides for construction of a new swimming pool at Wilson Park, including a bathroom, fencing, lighting and a blacktop parking lot at a total estimated cost of $1,304,791.

Other projects that would be financed with bond proceeds, if the issue is approved, include:

Tennis courts — Resurfacing tennis courts 3, 4, 5 and 6 in Wilson Park, including repair to gates and fencing at a cost of $35,000; construction of two new tennis courts and fencing, with two basketball goals at Worthen Park, $21,000; to new tennis courts, fencing and basketball goals at West Granite Park, $21,000. Total tennis court costs, $77,000.

Wilson Park at West — Enclosing ice rink and installation of heating facilities in the spectator area, $28,376; repainting inside ceiling of ice rink and repainting of ends of rink, $33,000. Total cost for ice rink improvements, $33,376.

Playground facilities and equipment — install new playground equipment and fencing at Wilson Park and West Granite Park, $60,000.

The total bond issue also would include $8,833 for additional costs incident to issuance of the bonds.

The resolution provides "That a special election is hereby called and shall be held in the Granite City Park District... on the 26th of November, 1978, between the hours of six o'clock a.m. and six o'clock p.m. for the purpose of submitting to the legal voters of said district the following proposition:

"Shall bonds of the Granite City Park District... to the amount of $1,785,000 be issued for the purpose of paying the cost of constructing and installing park facilities in Wilson Park, Worthen Park and West Granite Park, including a new swimming pool and bathroom in Wilson Park, enclosing the ice rink in Wilson Park, resurfacing tennis courts in Wilson Park, new tennis courts and basketball goals in Worthen Park and West Granite Park, and new playground equipment in Wilson Park and West Granite Park, and necessary appliances therefor, and for paying expenses incident thereto?"

Voters will ballot in three polling places in the Nov. 25 referendum. Polling places will include: First Union Community Center, 822 N. Highways Ave.; Precinct two, ice skating rink, Wilson Park, and Precinct three, Nanticoke Recreation Center, 2165 Am. Ave.

Under its present planning, the Park District proposed installation of a new Wave-Tek swimming pool. The pool is designed to create waves up to three feet to permit use of surfing rafts. The pool would be the only one of its kind in Illinois, and one of few that have been installed in the country.

Originally, the Park Board estimated cost of the pool installation at $1.2 million, but in recent meetings this cost was revised upward to allow for construction of a larger parking lot than was planned earlier.

The park commissioners had proposed expansion of the present parking lot to handle 185 cars, but on the recommendation of the Southern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, plans have been extended to provide parking spaces for 215 cars.

County board nomination in the Democratic primary last March but was defeated by Morris Miles, also a Democratic candidate, by 70 votes.

There was no Republican candidate in the primary election in that district. Sparks later filed petitions as a candidate of the People's Party ticket under a state law that permits entry of candidates running on specifically designated party tickets which can be filed after the primary.

Both he and Miles have been conducting active campaigns, much of which has been based on the pros and cons of the county sanitary sewer construction program. Sparks serves as chairman of the County Sewer Committee, whose efforts brought about the sewer construction which is now under way.

Louis Whitsell, incumbent board member of District 28 (which includes Nanticoke precincts 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, and Collinsville precinct 10) is opposed by Mrs. Helen Hawkins and Robert Sparks.

Mrs. Hawkins is a precinct committeewoman and one of the residents who opposed the county sewer program. She was a Democratic candidate for the county board nomination in the March primary, along with another Democratic candidate, Arthur Theis, was defeated by Whitsell.

Mrs. Hawkins, after the primary, filed as a candidate on the People for Helen Hawkins ticket.

Barton, a real estate broker, was appointed by the Republican committee to be a candidate in the board race since no Republican candidate had sought the nomination during the primary.

Opposition for board seats in the other districts where there are contests is strictly on party lines — Democratic versus Republican.

Incumbent County Board member Daniel Partney of Granite City District 21 is opposed by Richard A. Methenia. Partney, a Democrat, and Methenia, a Republican, both were candidates in the primary. District 21 is made up of Granite City precincts 11, 13, 14, 17, 26 and 35.

Incumbent Board Member William Webb of Granite City District 18, a Democrat, is seeking re-election opposed by Republican George Slattery. Both were nominated in the party primary in March. District 18 includes Granite City precincts 16, 21, 22, 23, 24, 30, 31, 32 and 34. Those who will win re-election without opposition include Nelson Hagnauer, an incumbent Democratic board member of Granite City District 20; Roderick Baader, incumbent Democratic board member of Venice District 23; and George Schmittling, a Democrat, in District 15, which is made up of Wood River and Chouteau townships.

Hagnauer is chairman of the County Board and chairman of the County Democratic committee. His district includes Granite City precincts 18, 19, 20, 27, 32, 36 and 37.

Baader's Venice district includes Venice townships precincts 1, 2, 4, 5, 10 and 11 and Granite City 9, 10 and 12.

District 15 in which Schmittling is the only candidate is made up of Wood River precincts 2, 5 and 6, and Chouteau precinct 3.

Andy Sabol, 84: Three hurt dies today in accident

Andy Sabol, 84, of Glen Carbon, formerly of Madison, died at 7:15 a.m. today at Belleville Memorial Hospital. He had been ill several months.

Mr. Sabol was a member of St. Cecilia Catholic Church, Glen Carbon, and belonged to St. Joseph Branch 408 of First Catholic Slovak Union (JED-NOTA). He was a World War I veteran.

Mr. Sabol retired from American Steel Foundries. Survivors include his wife, Mary Sabol; one son, John Sabol; Glen Carbon; five daughters, Mrs. George (Elsie) Flach, Granite City, Mrs. Edward (Agnes) Peck, Glen Carbon, Mrs. Richard (Irene) Marquardt, East St. Louis, Mrs. Stanley (Dorothy) Myrda, Fairview Heights, and Mrs. Robert (Helen) O'Guin, Waterloo, Ill.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

David W. Cooper, 46, and Goldie G. Cooper, 39, were released Sunday from Oliver G. Anderson Hospital following an auto accident at 8:59 p.m. Friday.

Their son, Russell L. Cooper, 12, still is a patient but doing well, according to a hospital spokesman.

The Cooper car collided with one driven by Mark P. Kearney of St. Louis, 100 feet north of the intersection of Illinois 159 and Glen Carbon Road.

Glen Carbon police charged Kearney with reckless driving, driving while intoxicated and illegal transportation of alcohol. Police alleged they found whiskey and beer in Kearney's car.

Kearney posted $200 cash bail. Court date is Tuesday, Dec. 12, in Edwardsville.

Traffic death rate still below 1977

Four traffic fatalities in the Quad-City area during October increased to 18 the total number of deaths due to traffic accidents during the ten months of this year, or two less than the total of 20 reported for the same period in 1977, a computation of traffic statistics by the Press-Record showed today.

October was the second consecutive month to mark up four traffic deaths, the same number occurring during September.

During the first eight months of this year—through August—only ten traffic deaths in the Quad-Cities had been recorded, only one-half the total of the previous year which stood at 20 at that time.

There were no traffic deaths in the area during the last four months of 1977, leaving the fatality total at 20 for all 12 months of that year.

There was a total of 48 accidents in the area last month involving injuries, with a total of 91 persons injured.

This compared with 64 traffic injury accidents and 89 persons injured during October a year ago.

The statistics do not include accidents that involve property damage only.

Injury accidents last month brought to 516 the total number of such accidents during the ten month period of this year, compared with 568 such accidents last year.

Injuries occurring in those accidents total 747 for the ten months of the year, compared with 827 for the same period a year ago.

Collide on Johnson

Miss Laura Galbreath, 18, of 2332 Roney Drive, was injured when her car and the auto of Louis Signaigo, 28, of 2906 Madison Ave., collided on Johnson Road at the entrance to St. Elizabeth Church last week.

Signaigo was charged with not having a driver's license and failure to give aid or information at the scene after he allegedly drove away from the accident. He was arrested nearby.

Miss Galbreath was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated for pain to her neck and was released.

He is examining the skull to see where the cranial nerves pass. Winkelmeier is a junior majoring in nursing at the university.

ZONING HEARING SET

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an on-site public hearing on Route 162 about 100 feet east of Lake Drive, south of Pontoon Beach, at 9:35 a.m. Monday, Nov. 13, where Paul Shup is requesting a special use permit to establish and operate a tool and die business in conjunction with a general machine shop. The property is zoned B-3 for highway business purposes.

Top safety award to area's builders

The Southern Illinois Builders Association was presented the 1978 National Safety Council Association Award for Employee Safety at its fall membership meeting. The SIBA is one of only six associations in the United States to receive the award this year.

It is the fifth consecutive year that SIBA has won this award. Ralph Korte, head of Ralph Korte Construction and president of the SIBA, accepted the award on behalf of the association.

Don Neslund, senior section administrator, Construction Section and Cement Quarry and Aggregate Section, National Safety Council, presented the award.

He said, "The award symbolizes a combined achievement of both the association staff and the SIBA members who participate actively in the association's safety program."

"These participants deserve the recognition of the National Safety Council, governmental agencies members of the association, their employees, and others for their contribution to safety and health."

SIBA, headquartered in Belleville with a branch office in Marion, has a membership of more than 600 firms which perform building, heavy and utilities construction in the 39 counties of Southern Illinois.

Members of the SIBA Safety and Health Committee are: Harry Niemann, committee chairman, Lühr Bros., Inc., Columbia, Ill.

Dewey Bowers, Fruin-Colton Corp., St. Louis.

Larry Korte, Ralph Korte Construction, Highland.

Tim Docter, Macclair Asphalt, Collinsville.

Arrest juveniles

Two juvenile boys were arrested in the parking garage of St. Elizabeth Hospital last week in possession of a tape player they admitted taking from under the seat of a parked car.

The boys, ages 15 and 16, took hospital security guards to where the car was parked and discovered the owner had driven it away. Officers confiscated the tape player until the owner reports it missing. The two were released to their parents and are to appear before juvenile authorities Nov. 27.

JIM MCPIKE

DEMOCRAT STATE REPRESENTATIVE

HE'S TOO GOOD TO LOSE

Paid for by Citizens for McPike, John P. Harizal, Jr., Public Relations

Alton area likes Steele, Vadalabene

Alton Telegraph — The 56th Legislative District has some of the high interest races this year with Sen. Sam Vadalabene getting a good challenge from Republican Gladys Levis, and the four-way battle for three seats in the representative race.

Sen. Sam, a busy little guy from Edwardsville, who is everywhere and does his homework well, has a solid record of service whether you like his party or his labor orientation.

Total welfare of the district has been enhanced by his seniority, his legislative experience in dealing with the Chicago crowd to get a share of the action for his district and ability to deliver in the key areas.

His record speaks for itself: area highways, aid to education, special projects like stoplights and rail crossing protection for every town in the district. And he's made no enemies except possibly on the ERA issue when he blew up and chewed out a persistent pusher for that cause.

Enter Gladys Levis, well-educated wife of a banker-industrialist. She's the caliber of candidate the Republican Party needs. Attractive, hard-working, dedicated and more than the single-issue candidate some thought she might be as a pro-ERA person.

Unfortunately, the Republican Party is split in this county over the ERA question which her neighbor Phyllis Schlafly strongly fights.

Gladys appropriately flays Sam on his spending record, his connections on the "Wilsonville Dump episode," and his unwillingness to debate her.

We think Gladys has developed an effective campaign and Sam may well want to adopt some of her ideas.

He is our hands down pick, however, to continue serving the area so well. Sen. Sam is a pro without question.

What he lacks in brilliance he makes up for with hard work and persistence. He has earned re-election.

In the House of Representatives race, voters have that magical choice of one vote for three, 1½ for two, three votes for one the "bullet vote" or forget the whole thing.

We think Rep. Jim McPike of Alton and Rep. Everett Steele of Glen Carbon have the most promise of best representing the interests of the Telegraph area.

McPike, a Democrat, successfully wooed votes in the Tri-Cities area by telling them what they want to hear and is a favorite in Alton-Godfrey because he is more visible here.

He is maturing with experience and has given up his independence for regular Demo endorsement and support.

He is actively pushing for retaining the Dental School of SIUE in Upper Alton.

Steele, a businessman and real estate man, has worked hard in the area with his mobile office here one day a week, and has communicated effectively with his constituents.

He worked with the governor's office on the Alton Board case where the plant was threatened by state and federal EPA bureaucrats even though compliance efforts had been made by building a $15 million water treatment plant.

He was instrumental in setting up the public hearing in Alton where the community could give input to EPA officials.

The importance of the cumulative voting system is it should provide for minority representation.

However, with independent candidate Joe Lucco involved, and Democrat Sam Wolf of Granite City, there is a good chance Steele might not make it if voters don't support him.

We think the best interests of the Telegraph area will be served by voters giving 1½ votes to McPike and Steele, which may pave the way for Lucco, a popular independent to fill the third slot.

Steele's ability to work with a Republican governor is important, and his interest in building up the jobs base by working against anti-industry legislation is vital to the economic well-being of the state and all its people.

him $100 and told him that was his cut of the money. (He) brought the money to myself and Demos and turned it over to Capt. Nicholas.

"Nicholas and I would meet, sometimes with a girl from Godfrey, and follow him to wherever he went. We went and record the time, date and places and verified that there were some payments made. This info was kept by Capt. Nicholas."

"Upon Demos' death, the info and $100 was never found. The $100 was in a white envelope with several reports and pictures which Demos and I had compiled."

"This envelope was signed across the seal on the back by Demos and myself. (One person) somehow found out and strangely suspected Demos and myself of trying to catch him and has been making it hard on me ever since."

"Today, I was told that if any of the information I knew about ever became public, I would be in trouble about it. Some of the information I have compiled was told to me by a woman, which I later verified myself."

"(Another person) has been involved in this and has full knowledge of these activities. Some of which he took part."

Just before Capt. Nicholas' death, we formed a church and association. Every year we hold a dance in which there are ads and tickets sold. To date, I have delivered a letter with me on all occasions from (an individual), to a sheriff department member."

"I am positive these envelopes contained money (payments). The first time I was told... to pick up a package and bring it, I got worried about myself being involved, so I took (another person) with me. (He) went with me on all occasions and once with me when a (department member) opened one of the envelopes and took out a large amount of money, which he showed in his pocket."

"(The man) and I talked several times of what to do, but decided each time to keep quiet. Today, I was told that I would not live long."

"If this is so, check my personal items and you will find all the evidence you will need," the Burns letter concludes.

Burns was not called as a witness at the trial of Grzyzawac and former Madison officers Edward Godan and Richard Krieschok, so he has never been asked publicly if he wrote the letter. However, his (he) went with me on grand jury has been made a part of the court file in the Grzyzawac trial and is public.

Excerpts follow:

Burns discussed the letter in a June 1977 federal grand jury appearance.

When asked, "Now getting back to the letter of Feb. 1, 1974, which you wrote, you start the letter by saying John Maeras is a crook?" Burns replied, "Yes, sir."

Q: "Could you explain that?"

A: "Well, yes, I was told by our former chief deputy, Demos Nicholas, that he had enough information about Sheriff John Maeras receiving payoffs from these different houses of prostitution that he thought he had enough to have him indicted and sent to the penitentiary."

"And I said, what do you mean, and he said, I think there is a couple of guys on our department that are picking up payoffs and they're delivering them to Maeras at Maeras' orders, at his discretion or whatever — at his order, I guess."

Q: "Did he say who these people were?"

A: "Well, yes, I was told by our former chief deputy, Demos Nicholas, that he had enough information about Sheriff John Maeras receiving payoffs from these different houses of prostitution that he thought he had enough to have him indicted and sent to the penitentiary."

"And I said, what do you mean, and he said, I think there is a couple of guys on our department that are picking up payoffs and they're delivering them to Maeras at Maeras' orders, at his discretion or whatever — at his order, I guess."

Q: "Did he say who these people were?"

A: "Well, yes, I was told by our former chief deputy, Demos Nicholas, that he had enough information about Sheriff John Maeras receiving payoffs from these different houses of prostitution that he thought he had enough to have him indicted and sent to the penitentiary."

A: "He said they were Ronnie Grzyzawac, who was a Madison policeman, and John Cooper, who was also with our department."

Q: "What did you do then?"

A: "Well, I asked him how I could help if this was going on. I said, you know, we ought to do something about it. I said what can we do."

"He said, well, I'll find out where and where they're moving and where they're going to collect. And we'll follow them and see if we can, you know, gather enough evidence on them to present to a grand jury."

Q: "Now, you say initially in the letter that Maeras is a crook — he's received payoffs from all houses of prostitution in Madison County. You say, I know this because of investigations which I have conducted."

A: "Yes, sir."

Q: "So, at the time you wrote this, you had conducted investigations?"

A: "Yes."

Q: "And you were convinced what you said in the first sentence you were convinced that that was true?"

A: "Yes, sir. He was a captain at that time. Captain Nicholas told me that he was positive that these things were going on, and I more or less took his word for it. The man always seemed like he was telling me the truth."

Q: "But you say, I know this because of investigations which I have conducted."

A: "Along with Captain Nicholas. That's the investigations I'm referring to."

Q: "What specific information did you have?"

A: "Well, this is where I got in a jam. All the information that we have gathered, Captain Nicholas kept in his desk drawer at work or else in his home, and he died in '74."

"And when he died I talked with his wife and I also looked in his desk drawer to see if I could find this file, and I couldn't find the file."

"And his wife didn't tell me anything about it, although she did tell me that she suspected that Demos had enough on John Maeras to get him out of office."

"But we never could find the files. Myself and a couple other deputies looked really good to find the file, because we knew just as soon as Maeras got it that our headaches were just going to start, and someone had been doing the desk before us because the file wasn't there."

"And when I asked Demos' wife, Ruth, about it, she said that she thought that he had kept it at work, and we never did find it."

Q: "What kind of evidence was it?"

A: "Demos had talked with some of the people that Grzyzawac and Cooper had gone to, I think he talked with Walter Young."

"He talked with — he ran the Club J in Collinsville."

"He talked with Myrene Stewart, I believe, who ran a place called Myrene's Steak House in Vandalia. I'm not really sure who else he talked to."

Q: "What specific information — what specific evidence?"

A: "I wasn't there when he talked to them, but he would tell me like, through the day, they're going to be going out tonight to watch him. I was in a squad car at the time I think."

"I was working the patrol division at that time. And I would find out when they're coming out. I would have somebody in the jail let me know when they're coming out."

"And I would just more or less stay back behind them, follow them, and see where they go and then report this to Captain Nicholas and he would in turn go to these different places after them."

Q: "This is Cooper and Grzyzawac?"

A: "That's who we were following, yes, sir."

Q: "Did you yourself obtain any evidence of any nature?"

A: "No, not really anything I could — just hearsay and allegations, you know."

Q: "You say in the last sentence of your letter, this is talking about you may not live very long. If that is so check my personal items and you'll find all the evidence you need. What did you mean by that?"

A: "Well, I'll tell you what I meant. I thought that I would be able to get my hands on that file that Demos had, and by the time anything happened, if it did happen, that would have enough evidence to move right in and wrap him up."

Q: "You said that Captain Demos Nicholas approached you suggesting there was corruption. He got you to work with him investigating that corruption. How long did your investigation last?"

A: "It was shortly after Maeras took office. That was in '70. It went from, I guess, 1970 until the time of his death."

"The night before he died I met with him at a place called 15 Acres. It's a restaurant outside of Granite City, and he said we were about ready to wrap him up."

"I said, you're talking about the sheriff, and he said yeah. He said, I think I've got him right where I want him."

Q: "What was the date of that?"

A: "He died, I think, in September of '72, I believe, and it was the day before — the night before he died."

offered or accepted anything of value in your capacity as a deputy?" Moments before the grand jury transcript was presented in the trial, Rizzzi told Defense Attorney Norman London that he had never received any payoffs.

Asked why he invoked the Fifth Amendment before the grand jury if he was innocent of taking payoffs, Rizzzi said he did so at the advice of his attorney, and added, "I felt he was giving me embarrassing advice."

Rizzzi is named in another document made public from the Grzyzawac trial, a statement from Sheriff Maeras to the Internal Revenue Service, in which he says Rizzzi and he were going to San Francisco to pick up a prisoner and they stopped two or three days in Las Vegas.

London also contended that Rizzzi failed to properly supervise a search of the department's records for any evidence slips related to money placed into evidence by Maeras. Rizzzi testified that none were found, and London noted that a slip was in the file but was "overlooked" by Maeras. The slip pertained to money Maeras put into evidence from a robbery unrelated to the Grzyzawac trial.

Biby's Democratic opponent in Tuesday's election, Emil Toffant in Madison, was contacted Friday and asked if he cared to comment on statements made by Rizzzi and declined.

Toffant said, however, that he plans to abolish the job of chief deputy, if elected. Instead, he will have two directors, one for field operations and one for administration. Both positions will be filled by persons now with the sheriff's department, Toffant said.

Sen. Percy's wife an active campaigner

By JANE GLENN HAAS

She is the eyes and ears of her husband.

She moves slowly, with easy gracefulness, in any crowd, from a women's coffee to a cocktail lounge.

She has a subtle knack of turning the conversation around, of asking the questions, of evidencing a total interest in the answers.

It's flattering, if sincere. It is a necessary talent for the wife of a U.S. senator known for his penchant for forgetting names, faces, places.

Since Aug. 1, Lorraine Percy has been meeting and greeting throughout Illinois for her husband, Sen. Charles Percy currently in his third statewide race.

She seems unflappable: "Oh, no, that's not true. I really don't have very much energy at all. I simply must take one day off a week and just stay in my room. I do my drip-drip and watch television or read books and have all my meals brought in."

It's a recharging for an obviously gentle lady who began a recent visit to Illinois by rising at 5 a.m. in her Washington, D.C., home.

"Well, actually, the reason I was home is that we were having this fund raiser for Bill Cohen, who has such a very good chance of beating Sen. William Hathaway of Maine."

"Such an evening! It was a cocktail party in our home and I had new caterers. It lasted too long and the caterers did something ... well, I have a white ring on the dining room table."

"But I just got up this morning and left it all up to Chuck to handle."

It began with coffee with Geneva-St. Charles-Batavia Republicans and ended at the Wayne home of Mrs. Elaine Moseley. It included a stop at the Bar Hotel to visit with a senior citizens at lunch, a walk through Pheasant Run Resort Hotel, luncheon in Geneva, a tour of the courthouse, a stop at a nursing home and dinner with Kane County Farm Bureau members.

"This is most pleasant! Sometimes we eat so poorly. Things like pronto pups and elephant ears, those things with cinnamon and sugar."

For Kane County, Lorraine wore a two-piece berry paisley dress. Her bone shoes were flat. Her jewelry was muted. Her makeup was unobtrusive.

Standing before the Republican women she clasped her hands behind her back and spoke softly, but positively, about Republicans first, her husband second.

"What Chuck tried to do is help the whole ticket," said Lorraine Percy. "It's very important to do that, and women work the hardest. We are all so grateful for women who work for candidates."

She told them her husband had been successful in his efforts to put a ceiling on the federal budget, to promote sunbelt legislation for unnecessary federal agencies, to work for Civil Service reform.

And she shook every hand in the room.

Tax cut promised by Libertarian Georgia Shields

Thompson, Bakalis or Shields for governor of Illinois Tuesday?

Who's Shields? Georgia Shields is the Libertarian party candidate for governor of Illinois.

A 36-year-old attractive divorcee, she has a bachelor's degree from the University of Chicago, 1964, in economics, and she has just finished work for her law degree from the Kent College of Law in Chicago. She is scheduled to take the Illinois Bar examination in February 1979.

The Libertarian party also has two other candidates in the Illinois ballot: Bruce Green of South Elgin, Ill., a United Airlines pilot running for the U.S. Senate, and Mrs. Marj Kohls, also from northern Illinois, the Libertarian lieutenant governor candidate.

The issues, according to Mrs. Shields:

"The big problem in Illinois is taxes. The voters know it, and politicians will know it when I'm elected governor.

"My highest priority is cutting Illinois taxes by at least one-third over the next two years. After I've cut the first third, I'll look at what's left and cut more at every opportunity. As long as I'm governor, there will be no new taxes, and I'll push the legislature for tax cuts daily.

"As governor, I promise not to take a salary from Illinois taxpayers. Instead, I'll set up a fund accepting no more than $50 contribution from an individual. If Illinois taxpayers aren't happy with my performance as governor, they shouldn't donate. Since I'm not rich, I'll be forced to resign. Illinois taxpayers will have effective recall for the next four years.

"My budget staff of businessmen, journalists, and accountants has prepared an initial budget I will submit to the legislature. My budget cuts Illinois taxes $2.3 billion, allowing repeal of the Illinois income tax and the elimination of improper government spending. This is not a 'half-baked' proposal. My budget team has prepared a detailed budget proposal of more than 60 pages.

"My budget is a jobs creation budget. Due to high taxes, more than 100,000 industrial jobs have left Illinois since 1975. That trend is accelerating. Many more jobs could not be created with high taxes and the restrictive regulatory eliminate. As governor, I'll reverse this Illinois unemployment trend.

"The most important changes I'll make in Illinois' regulatory climate are amendments to the Workmen's Compensation and Unemployment Compensation acts. I'll also repeal or amend all laws which violate rights of individuals to conduct their own lives in any peaceful manner they choose.

"The elimination of improper state government activities will enhance personal freedom. The tax cuts of $2 billion to Illinois taxpayers returns economic freedom to all taxpayers.

"I'll also remove the yoke of 'state mandated' programs from local governments, eliminating all such programs and vetoing new proposals.

"Major spending cuts will be in education. I propose a $62 million cut in state spending for elementary and secondary education. Both my Democratic

"The Illinois Arts Council is high on my list of priorities to ditch... that's the agency that steals from poor taxpayers to subsidize patrons of the fine arts, who's annual income is $30,000.

"I'll get rid of the Illinois Commerce Commission for the same reasons Congress is trying to get rid of the CAB.

"I'll slash business regulation in Illinois. This will lift Illinois from its position as the 37th worst state for business, to the best state to do business in. "I'll challenge the myth that government must eventually control all means of public transportation. Past and current government transportation policies have reduced the quality of roads and railroad service, created unnecessary traffic congestion, bankrupted privately owned transportation facilities, accelerated urban blight and deprived taxpayers of billions of dollars.

"Transportation accounts for 24 percent of Illinois' budget. I'll propose to end all subsidies to the RTA, rail lines, airports, heliports, and the state subsidy to Amtrak. In my first year as governor, I'm pledged to cut $474 million from Illinois' transportation budget, a savings to taxpayers of 21.5 percent.

"Illinois taxpayers want tax cuts. I'll cut Illinois taxes by $2.3 billion dollars in my first year as governor, using my veto and amendatory veto powers as freely as necessary to get the job done. In my second year I'll cut Illinois taxes another $1 billion, and every year thereafter I promise to cut Illinois taxes.

"My victory will be the first victory for Illinois taxpayers in this century, Shields concluded. The Libertarians are the nation's third largest party.

Singularly troublesome tendency to write plural

ABOUT LANGUAGE
By Gary N. Murphy
SUE Department of English
PRONOUNS — Pronouns, we have all been told, should agree in number with the words they substitute for. But look what happens in these two sentences: "Where does a person go if they want a moment to themselves just to reflect, perchance to dream?"

"If someone is serious about getting a college education, they are going to make their own adjustments to college life."

In each of these, the writer begins with a singular subject—

"a person," "someone"—and then, succumbing right in the middle of the sentence, breaks out in a rash of plurals—"they," "their," "themselves."

Erma Bombeck, who knows better, wrote the first sentence. There the error helps make her writing sound like ordinary chatter, where we are very, very permissive about pronouns.

The second sentence was written by a young journalist who I suspect needs to make a few post-college adjustments. Since this pronoun shift almost invariably goes from singular to plural, suppose we call the malady Pernicious Plurality.

Arrest juvenile

Granite City police, who have been patrolling the area around Granite City High School South just after school starts each morning arrested two students behind Mr. Donut last week and charged a 16-year-old with possession of marijuana.

Officers said that when they approached the two, the 16-year-old threw something into another yard and the 15-year-old put something under his clothing.

Police found a plastic cigarette container containing two marijuana cigarettes in the nearby yard and charged the older boy with possession of marijuana.

The younger boy was searched and a marijuana pipe containing a small amount of marijuana in the bowl was found. He was released without being charged.

Mrs. Smith dies at 83

Mrs. Esther E. Smith, 83, of 2436 Angela Drive, ill for one month, died at 12 noon Thursday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. She had been a patient at the hospital 11 days.

Born in Taylorville, Ill., Mrs. Smith resided in St. Louis prior to moving to Granite City eight years ago.

Mrs. Smith was of the Protestant faith and was a member of a Granite City Senior Citizens Club.

Her husband, Earl Smith, died in 1971.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Jack (Donna) Schilling, of High Ridge, Mo., and Mrs. Mary Breeze of Granite City; six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Student fashion show at South

Granite City High School South's fashion merchandising class, taught by Cathy Riebold, will display their work and introduce new styles by the new fashion class on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. with a show in the South auditorium.

The purpose of the class is to enable the students to understand and evaluate both historical and current fashion trends. The students also demonstrate their knowledge of the principles of color, design, and texture in relation to fashions. The student will be able to apply these principles in coordination and selection of clothing and accessories and demonstrate some knowledge of fashion promotion, display and advertising.

"Producing a fashion show provides the fashion merchandising students with the opportunity to apply classroom principles of wardrobe planning and accessorizing. "They also learn poise and self-confidence in appearing before the public. Also, they soon realize that they must all do their share to produce a quality performance," the instructor said.

"Twenty-one students from the class were chosen to model the fashion clothing. They were selected on a basis of applications submitted to the instructor. Besides modeling, several special departments were assigned, such as: dressing rooms, co-ordinators, communication, stage management and props, publicity and director. Two fashion directors, Lydia Crews and Vickie Johnson, were selected for overall guidance. To portray the new styles, the program arrangement will be divided into scenes, each scene displaying a fashion for various occasions. Back to school, business, afternoon, in the park, night life, shared times and night life, are among the situations presented.

Most persons know the convenience and safety afforded by using checks. But it's important to remember to treat a check as carefully as money.

To reduce the possibility of forgery, always make out checks with ink or a typewriter. Begin writing in every space as far to the left as possible and fill all blanks with a wavy line to avoid possible alterations. Don't write a check until you're ready to turn it over for possible payment. And for checks you receive, remember when you endorse them by simply signing your name on the back it can be cashed by anyone else if it becomes lost or stolen. If you're depositing checks by mail, you can protect the check by prefacing your endorsement on the back with "For Deposit Only."

If you have other questions about the proper and safe uses of checks, see any of our officers. When they advise you about checking services ... you can BANK on it!

Hits fire hydrant, hedge and tree.

John L. Dale, St. Louis, was released at 11:22 p.m. Saturday on $200 cash bail after being charged with driving while intoxicated, expired license plates and an expired driver's license. He allegedly was heading south on Madison Avenue and ran over the curb, hitting a fire hydrant in the 1400 block of Madison Avenue, continued south on the sidewalk, went through a yard and hedge at 1430 Madison Avenue, striking a tree at 1435 Madison Ave.

Record year for Amsted, 1979 outlook is excellent

AMSTED Industries last week reported that net income and sales were at all-time highs in the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1978. The firm operates the busy American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City.

Net income was $49,900,000, or $4.63 per share, up from $35,600,000, or $3.31 per share, an increase of 40 percent over a year ago. Net income amounted to 7.1 percent of net sales in 1978 compared to 6.5 percent in 1977.

Earnings per share for both years reflect the two-for-one stock split which became effective May 19, 1978. Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman, and Goff Smith, president said.

In the last ten years, AMSTED's earnings have grown at an 18 percent compounded annual rate. In the last five years, the growth has been at a 27 percent rate.

Sales of $699,800,000 in fiscal 1978 were up $154,000,000, or 28 percent from last year. Sales of every major product category were at record levels.

Railroad product sales were $236,500,000, an increase of 35 percent, reflecting a continued good level of freight car building and a strong demand for component parts for repairs.

Sales of construction and building products of $177,400,000 were up 27 percent, largely due to the increased level of housing starts in fiscal 1978, and the inclusion of the newly-acquired Henry Pratt Company's results for the last five months of the fiscal year.

General industrial product sales were $185,900,000, an increase of 18 percent over last year, principally attributable to the continued strength of the overall general economy.

Lanterman and Smith noted that earnings in 1978 for all product categories were favorably affected by the higher sales.

The upward trend in AMSTED's business, which began in the second half of fiscal 1977, continued throughout fiscal 1978.

Earnings in 1977, however, were adversely affected by start-up costs at three plants. This negative effect was partially offset by the favorable impact of a higher investment tax credit.

The following is a comparison of the pre-tax operating income generated by each of the product categories for the last two fiscal years.

The income figures exclude general corporate and interest expenses totaling $7,400,000 in 1978 and $5,800,000 in 1977.

Pre-tax operating income for 1978 and 1977:

General industrial products, $22,100,000, 21 percent of AMSTED total; $18,900,000, 24 percent.

Construction and building products, $20,100,000, 19 percent of total; $15,500,000, 22 percent.

Railroad products, $62,400,000, 60 percent of total; $38,800,000, 54 percent.

Grand total of operating income, $104,600,000 (1978) and $71,200,000 (1977).

The board of directors, on April 18, 1978, approved a two-for-one split of the company's common stock in the form of a 100 percent stock dividend, effective at the close of business on May 19.

Additional certificates representing one additional share for each share outstanding were distributed on June 9.

AMSTED Industries' board of directors last week declared a quarterly dividend of 43 cents per share payable on Dec. 15, 1978, to stockholders of record as of the close of business on Nov. 20. This is an increase of 16 percent from the 37 cents per share paid in June and September 1978 and an increase of 35 percent over the 32.5 cents paid in December, 1977, and March 1978.

In December 1977, the quarterly dividend had been increased 18 percent to 32.5 cents per share on a post stock split basis, up from the equivalent of 27.5 cents per share paid in June and September 1977.

In June 1978, the next dividend rate increase occurred, to 37 cents per share, up 14 percent. These increases resulted in record dividends of $1.39 per share in 1978, up 32 percent from the equivalent of $1.05 per share paid in fiscal 1977.

As of May 1, 1978, AMSTED had acquired substantially all of the outstanding shares of common stock of Henry Pratt Co. for approximately $57,500,000 cash. Results of the acquired operation are reflected in AMSTED's consolidated financial results for the last five months of the fiscal year.

Henry Pratt Co., which operates as a division of AMSTED, designs, manufactures and sells valves and fluid control devices for use primarily in municipal and privately-owned water and sewerage works and power generating plants. Pratt operates manufacturing plants in Aurora, Dixon and St. Charles, Ill.

The AMSTED executives said that the additions to property in fiscal 1978 were $43,160,000, up from $28,394,000 expended last year and include $19,741,000 for the fixed assets of Henry Pratt.

Excluding this acquisition, property additions were down from 1977, when three new plants were completed.

Based on present plans, expenditures for property additions in the next two fiscal years, excluding acquisitions, are expected to total $80,000,000. Major expenditures will include the expansion of capacity at several plants producing freight car components to meet the continued strong demand.

Other plant expansions will be made to increase the production of diesel engine piston pins and to increase the production of large diameter ductile iron pipe.

Net current assets or working capital at Sept. 30, 1978, amounted to $91,005,000, down $4,300,000 from the level a year ago. This was principally due to a reduction in short-term investments from $24,970,000 to $1,000,000 as a result of the acquisition of the Pratt company for cash. Accounts receivable and inventories continued under good control.

AMSTED had no long-term debt at the end of the current or prior year.

Lanterman and Smith noted that AMSTED's backlog of orders at Sept. 30 amounted to $355,000,000, more than double the $170,000,000 a year earlier.

Orders for freight car components, which made up the largest portion of the backlog, were up substantially and constituted more than half of the total increase from a year ago.

The backlog of general industrial products is up from a year ago, reflecting the continued strength in the general economy.

Unfilled orders for construction and building products, which historically have represented the smallest portion of the backlog, are up significantly from the level at Sept. 30 and are nearly equal to the backlog for general industrial products. This is principally the result of the Pratt acquisition.

Lanterman and Smith said in a joint statement, "Moderate growth in the overall economy is expected in fiscal 1979. A good level of housing starts is also anticipated but is not expected to equal the high level of 1978."

"These factors, coupled with a high rate of new freight car building and a strong demand for repair components, should result in 1979 being another excellent year for AMSTED, one that should exceed the record year in 1978."

Driver faces 5 charges

Randy D. Thompson, 22, West Plains, Mo., faces five charges after a hit-and-run accident in the parking lot of Ricco's II Lounge, 3675 Nameoki Road, at 10:10 p.m. Sunday.

An employee of the lounge reported a young man had been asked to leave after a disturbance inside and in the parking lot, he allegedly tried to strike the employee.

He then got into an auto, backed into the parked car of Michael McDonnell, Overland, Mo., and drove from the parking area, police reports said.

The employee said the young man returned minutes later on foot and alleged he was hiding behind a truck near the lounge.

Police took him into custody and took him to the Granite City Police Department, but as they were getting him out of the squad car, he broke free and ran down the alley, police alleged.

He was located at 20th Street and Madison Avenue, but again ran from police, they reported. Officers searched the area and took him into custody in the alley behind 20th Grand Ave., where he allegedly resisted arrest and force had to be used to subdue him.

At the police station, he allegedly refused to give police booking information or to get into a jail cell and force again had to be used to jail him, it was reported.

Thompson was charged with escape, resisting arrest, leaving the scene of an accident, driving while under the influence of liquor and using a suspended driver's license.

His car was found parked at Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, police said.

South downs North 2-1

By JIM HEIDENRICH
For the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The king is still alive.

The Granite City South soccer Warriors escaped elimination from the Granite City North Sectional Tournament here Saturday when Fred Schuler scored his second goal with 1:33 left in the third period to give the defending state champions a 2-1 victory over the host North Steelers.

North's bid for another victory (the Steelers beat South earlier this season) over last year's best soccer team in Illinois ended exactly at 2 p.m. when the Steelers lost their race against time. The Steelers, meanwhile, kept its march to Bloomington on course when it snuffed out the Steelers' spirited effort the final 21 minutes.

And if the Warriors don't make another trip to the state tournament Saturday, they have only themselves to blame. They have the ultimate control over their own destiny when they battle Quincy Notre Dame Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the final game of the round robin tournament.

Quincy Notre Dame also defeated Belleville West 2-1 Saturday and won a 2-0 tour-

Sectional soccer wrap-up

GRANITE CITY — Both teams from Granite City lost their first round sectional game Thursday in the Granite City North Sectional Tournament. South lost to "darkhorse" Belleville West, 2-1, and North lost to Quincy Notre Dame, 2-1. Granite City's only win came in the consolation game — that was to Quincy Senior.

SOUTH — WEST
The Maroons, coached by Gary Carr, only had one shot on goal throughout the contest — however, two were sufficient. Both shots were in the first period — both went in. The first shot was originally by John Johnson which dribbled toward the goal. A few minutes later, South's keeper, came out and blocked Johnson's shot. But, the ball bounced loose and on his 17th goal of the season, Carr Generous put it in and put Belleville on top. That was ten and a half minutes into the game.

Johnson, on a breakaway, scored the second goal. He got the ball just short of midfield and took it down to within 20 yards and shot — 2-0.

The Warriors only had six shots on goal at halftime — 14 for the game. South took several good shots but West managed to keep on top of the situation.

David Fernandez took care of South's point on the board. Fernandez, with only 18 minutes to play in the game, shot over the keeper's head and off the cross bar and into the goal.

"We tried our best to slow them (South) down before they could establish their shots. We did," said Coach Carr.

NORTH — QND
It was basically a dull game — that is until the fourth quarter. Only 15 shots on goal were taken by both teams in the entire battle.

Midway through the fourth period, Quincy's David White tore with the ball just to the side of North's goal and chipped it past Tony Pierce, North's keeper, 1-0. That was his 24th goal of the year.

Seven minutes later, Jeff DeMott kicked a corner kick for North. Mike Robertson headed the ball towards the goal, the keeper, Jeff Goosen, grabbed, bobbled, tossed the ball back in and fell down. Bruce Hall, a Quincy back, cleared the ball away.

Granite North's last challenging shot was with two minutes to play. DeMott chipped the ball towards the mouth of the goal, but Goosen was there and North was beaten 1-0.

Bob Kehoe, coach of North said, "Emotions and desires can do marvels."

Saturday, Notre Dame defeated West 2-1.

North Boosters to meet

GRANITE CITY — The regular meeting of the Granite City High School North Boosters Club will be held Thursday, Nov. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Plans for the fall sports banquets will be the main topic of discussion.

namment record, while South stands at 1-1. But if the two teams' end with identical 2-1 marks, the Warriors will be crowned the sectional champs since they would have defeated Quincy.

While the Warriors probably have the talent to oust the Raiders, they have a personnel problem. The champs must rise above injuries which almost halted their drive earlier in the tourney.

"We're playing injured," said South coach Gene Baker. "But the boys rose above it today."

South controls its own destiny

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South's destiny is in its own hands now.

The Warriors, 2-1 conquerors of Granite City North Saturday in the North Sectional, will face Quincy Notre Dame Tuesday at 3 p.m. The winner will go to the state playoffs. It's that simple.

That is, of course, unless Belleville West can come up with an upset of GCHS North now 0-2 in sectional play in the first game tomorrow.

Then if South beats Notre Dame, it'll throw the whole affair into a three-way tie. The reason is, that West upset top-seeded South last Thursday in the first round of the round-robin sectional tournament. In the case of a two-way tie, head-to-head competition is used to see which team advances. But in the case of a three-way tie, goals scored are used as the determining factor.

West has scored three goals thus far in the tourney, two against South and one against Notre Dame. South has also scored three goals, one against West and two against Notre Dame. However, it has yet to face Notre Dame.

Notre Dame has ALSO scored three goals thus far, two against West and one against North. What if all boils down to, however, is that South MUST defeat Notre Dame to go to the state tourney. At least THAT is clear. — PETE HAYES.

With the final seconds ticking away, Fernandez displayed nifty foot work and centered another perfect pass to Schuler, who ripped in the game-winner.

Schuler is always dangerous," said North coach Bob Kehoe. "He's a big strong boy that's always around the ball. And when he's in the game, you have to watch him close."

Schuler and his Warrior teammates didn't exactly dominate the contest, but had 10 more chances to score than North as they owned a 13-3 shot-on-goal advantage.

Neither team owned an edge in "take-downs." It was an especially bruising battle as time was called several times the second half to help the injured of the field.

"It was really a hard fought game," said Kehoe. "But whenever we play each other, it's that way. I really don't like it this way. But you can't get away from it when each team is trying to prove which is the best in the town."

Schuler's coach Baker summarized the fierce rivalry by paying tribute to a gallant Steeler team.

"It was a very, very pleasing

South rolls to win over Madison

By PETE HAYES

MADISON — It was just another normal autumn evening here Friday. But don't tell that to Granite City South or Madison High's football teams — they probably thought there was a full moon in the sky.

South started out like a ball of fire, while Madison underwent a transformation at halftime that would have made Jekyll and Hyde ashamed. All that amounted to the two clubs scoring 100 points between them. However, 66 of them belonged to the Warriors as they coasted to a 66-34 victory.

The victory gave South a final record of 5-4 while the Trojans, who finished last season with that mark, end up at 2-7.

South's lead in the locker room at halftime with a 38-6 lead. But the Madison team that came back out for the second half wasn't the same team that went in.

The team that came out resembled the one that went in as much as the infamous Mr. Hyde did his alter ego, Dr. Jekyll.

Madison quarterback Carlyn Jackson filled the air with passes, completing 10 of 35 in the game for an outstanding total of 320.

But South had dug Madison's grave in the first half and Jackson's passing wasn't enough to pull the Trojans out of it.

Bob Stegemeier opened the scoring for South with 8:18 showing on the first quarter clock. Jackson cranked up his arm at the 5:45 mark and hit Earnest Davenport, streaking down the right sideline for a 59-yard touchdown. The extra point was missed.

But that was as close as South came to a taste of what it would try to do in the second half. Jackson cranked up his arm at the 5:45 mark and hit Earnest Davenport, streaking down the right sideline for a 59-yard touchdown. The extra point was missed.

Then Madison cranked it up. Jackson hit Kenny Stanley with a 55-yard pass. James Heard ran the ball in for the two-point conversion.

"That Jackson is one of the finest passers I've seen this season," said Wojcik. "He can really throw it well."

Pete's got some real speedy receivers who can motor once they get the ball."

Despite giving up the touchdown, Wojcik continued to leave in his second-string defense and with 1:55 left Jackson did

The Sporting Thing

By Pete Hayes

GRANITE CITY — Where are our priorities?

Elsewhere in today's Sports Section, you'll find a story about a middle-aged soccer fan going out onto the team game to push and punch a referee.

What's going on?

Many stories are told about the Little League parents, and most are told in a somewhat tongue-in-cheek manner. But a parent actually disrupting the game by a game to hit a referee? No way!

The YMCA Soccer League was set up many years ago in our community by some far-sighted individuals who wanted to help teach youngsters how to play the great game of soccer, brought over to this country by their ancestors. It was something they were proud of.

The Granite City 'Y' League is something to be proud of today. It is copied in city after city as soccer's popularity spreads. But why endanger our reputation by some foolish act?

But the incident that occurred last Thursday is just the tip of the iceberg. There's been a buildup of this sort of thing for some time now.

Where are our priorities? Wasn't the 'Y' League set up for the children? Or was it designed as a ground for frustrated parents and fans to heckle, yell and otherwise abuse not only referees, but coaches and players as well?

In many instances, the well-behaved and the non-misconducting of the young athletes seems secondary. Not usually, but nonetheless it does occur.

Instead, the parents and fans use the YMCA games as their personal sounding boards. Many times, spectators have verbally attacked younger (teenage) referees, who are there, along with a more experienced ref, to learn the trade of officiating and to serve the children of the league.

But instead of thanks, these volunteers are harassed and intimidated. This sort of behavior should not be tolerated... at ANY level, much less in the league's league.

Some of the language used by these spectators would make a sailor blush. But that's not nearly as bad as the kids' use of four-letter words when addressing a referee. Where do these kids learn to attack the officials in that manner, hmmm?

Friday night, the YMCA Soccer League Board of Review met in an emergency session to decide whether or not to suspend play until a settlement is reached regarding the Thursday incident. Play was not stopped at together, but games involving the two teams involved in the Thursday incident were temporarily suspended.

The sad thing is that this entire affair shouldn't be happening. The kids should come first... in fact they should be the ONLY worry which to decide whether or not to suspend play until a settlement is reached regarding the Thursday incident. Play was not stopped at together, but games involving the two teams involved in the Thursday incident were temporarily suspended.

Tigers clamp down on Steelers

EDWARDSVILLE — The game between Granite City North and Edvardville here Friday night started off on the right foot for North. Bounces and other breaks went against Edvardville and the Quilts.

However, they didn't win either as the Tigers, despite the bad breaks, sank North 21-12.

On the opening kickoff, North went on to win. Kicked an on-side kick AND recovered it on Edvardville 40 yard line. Jess Reed took credit for recovering the football.

Danny Patterson, North's quarterback on first down, was intercepted by big Vince Broderick — he stands 6'4" and pushes a scale down to 205 pounds.

Halfback Tom Guffy went across the goal line standing, from the three yard line several plays later. With the PAT kick by Phil Conreux, the score was Edvardville 7, North 0.

GRANITE CITY — This area will be well-represented when the 1978 IHSA State Football Playoffs begin Wednesday at various sites around the state.

And the fun's just beginning. Southwestern's Illinois representative in the Class 5A (large school) division will be East St. Louis Senior (8-1) which will host Rock Island (6-3).

In the 4A division, Roxana 6-3 will be playing host to Springfield Griffin (9-0). Roxana earned its third trip to the playoffs by winning the Mississippi Valley Conference championship in the final game of the season Friday night.

The 3A class is where Southern Illinois schools begin to show up more on the playoff schedule. Six southern teams are involved. The team most familiar to this area will be Alton Marquette (9-0) which travels to powerful Murphysboro (9-0). Other Southern Illinois games are Olney (8-1) at Charleston (8-0) and McLeansboro (8-1) at Edwardsville led 7-0.

Edwardsville wouldn't settle for a one-point lead, so the Tigers scored again. This one came a minute before halftime. Mark Buccheim brought it home with a 24-yard run, 14-6 after the PAT.

In the second quarter, Guffy fumbled a bad pitch-out and North took possession on the Tiger two yard line. Kevin Buchanan took it in. And on the PAT kick, the Tigers were off-side and the ball was placed half the distance — about the one and a half. North decided to go for the two-point conversion and that decided the Steeler's fate. Edwardsville led 7-0.

A matter of pride

GRANITE CITY — It happened again. Granite City North met Granite City South head-on in soccer here Saturday. At stake was a chance to move on to the state tournament. For the loser, one remaining game, but nothing to play for except pride.

North won the earlier game this season 2-0, but South gained its revenge Saturday, downing the Steelers 2-1 in a hard-fought game.

First South took the lead on a goal early in the contest. But the score was tied by North in the third period.

In that same third stanza, South took the lead for good. The game was rough. North-South games always are. But in the end, after the shouting and cheering had died down, players from each team were still talking, congratulating one another and wishing each other luck.

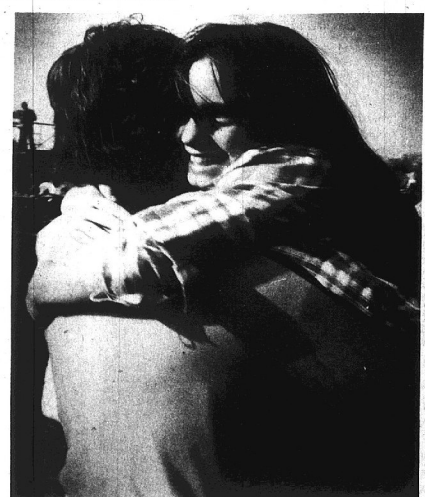

For if one Granite City school can't go to the state tournament, it'll still be rooting for its cross-town comrades to do in the outside opposition (Quincy Notre Dame) Tuesday. For most of the Steelers would rather see South go to state than Quincy.

It's a matter of pride.

Local youngsters run in Jr. High harrier meet

GRANITE CITY — The distance covered was 1.5 miles. The sport was cross country. The participants ... 12 and 13 year-old boys and girls.

The annual Granite City Junior High school cross country meet was held here last Tuesday (Nov. 1) at Wilson Park with Coolidge, Grigsby and Prather Junior High Schools participating. Richard Harmon, the cross country coach at GCHS South, along with members of his squad, conducted the meet.

Each school entered 10 runners in each category. Those categories were seventh and eighth grade boys and seventh and eighth grade girls. This year's meet was the first one to allow girls to participate.

The winners in the seventh grade were John Elkins of Prather in the boys division (time of 7:50) and Donna Broyles of Grigsby in the girls division (8:30).

The eighth grade winners were Tim Hillis in the boys division (7:17) and Pat Skinner of Coolidge in the girls division (8:25).

Other finishers were: seventh grade boys: 2) John Peters, Grigsby (7:50); 3) Jeff Rose, Coolidge (7:51); 4) Jim Robertson, Grigsby; 5) Paul Macios, Coolidge; 6) Tony Bennett, Coolidge; 7) Jack Ferguson, Grigsby; 8) Carl Barton, Prather; 9) Nathan Crockerall, Prather; 10) John Bates, Coolidge.

Seventh grade girls: 2) Kim Bierschwas, Prather, 8:40; 3) Anita Durborow, Coolidge (8:42); 4) Virginia Paul, Prather; 5) Angela Durborow, Coolidge; 6) Karen Diak, Prather; 7) Lori Briddick, Grigsby; 8) Hope Crow, Prather; 9) Lisa Winchester, Grigsby; 10) Diana Ashal, Coolidge.

Eighth grade girls: 2) Johanna Davis, G-

8:30; 2) Lisa Armour (G-8:43); 4) Phyllis Graham (G); 5) Kim Smith (G); 6) Sherry Rogell (G); 7) Chris Wroblewski (P); 8) Tammy Long (C); 9) Judy Tudor (G); 10) Angela Rozycki (G).

Eighth grade boys: 2) Sam Marshall (G-7:21); 3) Phil Pogmarkoff (C-7:30); 4) Roger Keyes (G); 5) Charles Lowry (P); 6) Robby Lakin (G); 7) Matt Johnson (G); 8) Jim Marsh (G); 9) Tony Segoriano (C); 10) Dan Batson (P).

The final team standings saw Grigsby win all divisions. Seventh grade girls: Grigsby 134 points, Prather 148 points, Coolidge 175 points. Seventh grade boys: Grigsby 138 points, Coolidge 163 points and Prather 164 points. Eighth grade boys: Grigsby 121 points, Coolidge 168 and Prater 176. Eighth grade girls: Grigsby 97 points, Coolidge 164 and Prather.

Police probe rape report

Granite City police are investigating reports from a 17-year-old State Park Place woman who was found nude in a rear yard in the 2200 block of East 23rd Street at 3:15 a.m. Sunday.

The young woman gave conflicting reports, one saying she was raped and another saying she had escaped from two men without having been raped or molested, investigators said.

She told officers she went to the VFW Post in State Park Place where two men, including one called "Butch" gave her a ride in a new big white car to a house on Bromley Avenue.

Once inside the house, Butch slapped her and tried to force her to perform sex acts, she reported. At first she said Butch raped her, but later she said the second man interceded after Butch struck her and she managed to run from the house, police related.

Statements did not indicate when her clothing was removed, but she told police the clothes were at the house on Bromley Avenue, which officers are attempting to pinpoint today.

The young woman was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for examination and was released.

34 October car deaths in nine-county district

Lynn E. Baird, superintendent, Illinois State Police, reports of 34 traffic fatalities in Illinois during October.

Total 1978 fatalities to date are 1,747 or 56 less than last year. Of these, 1,023 were rural fatalities.

In District 11, which covers a nine-county area, there were 34 traffic fatalities in October. To date, the district has had a total of 105 rural fatalities, or 17 less than last year.

Madison County had eight traffic deaths, for a ten-month total of 44.

Illinois State Police are conducting a concentrated traffic enforcement program (TEP) utilizing off-duty troopers, funded by a National Highway Transportation Safety grant. This is a selective traffic enforcement program whose goal is to reduce the number and severity of crashes in high-accident risk areas through enforcement action and police visibility during times when past experience indicates a higher frequency of accidents.

In District 11, the locations are as follows: Interstate 270 from Route 3 to 203, Interstate 70 from Route 111 to Route 157, Route 207 in Madison and Jersey counties, Route 50 in Clinton County, Route 138 from Millstadt to Route 13, Route 13 to Route 157 and Route 163 from Route 137 to Millstadt.

During October, District 11 troopers working the CTEP made 724 contacts for traffic violations, nine motorist assists and four criminals arrests.

For circuit judge in the Third Judicial Circuit, Madison County lawyers in Illinois State Bar Association balloting prior to the primary endorsed two of four candidates. Of the primary winners, Gerald B. Cohn (R) was endorsed in secret balloting and his opponent was not. The Madison County Bar during a meeting Oct. 17 endorsed both Attorney Cohn and Associate Judge William E. Johnson (D). We endorse Cohn on this basis and as a means of partially balancing a mainly-Democratic elected judiciary in this circuit.

For Judge of the Circuit Court
3rd Judicial Circuit
Madison County

GERALD B. COHN has been recommended by the Illinois State Bar Association on the basis of integrity, legal experience, judicial temperament, courtesy, and impartiality. His opponent was not recommended by the Illinois State Bar Association. If we want to clean up government, let's start with the courts.
Elect a new face,
GERALD B. COHN.

Analysis and Opinion

Who knows better?

Lawyers best judges of judge candidates;
two secret polls recommended Cohn

We are inclined to put more stock in a secret ballot than a voice vote, especially when it is lawyers voting on a judge candidate they may have to practice before. The Illinois Bar Association poll of third circuit lawyers recommended Gerald Cohn for Circuit Judge, did not recommend Bill Johnson.

On a voice vote at a Madison County Bar Association meeting attended by about a fourth of the number who voted in the ISBA poll, both candidates were recommended.

Subsequently, the Alton-Wood River Bar Association had a secret ballot and endorsed Cohn 86 percent to 10 percent, 2 percent abstaining.

It is hard for laymen to gauge judges or to know what experiences, background, associations and temperament sway them. Lawyers are in the best position to know.

The two secret ballot polls are decisive, in our opinion.

A doll house for fun and memories

If you ever played with or owned a doll house when you were a child, you probably can appreciate the three years of work that Mrs. Peg Stevens has put into her three-story, eight-room doll house.

She has worked on the house since 1975 when her children gave her a kit which included the shell of the house and some of the furnishings. Since then she has added two more rooms and an area for a second bathroom.

Mrs. Stevens is a retired home decorator with more than 20 years experience in the field.

The house is built to a one inch equals one foot scale which makes some interesting problems when trying to make everything to scale and still keep everything authentic in appearance.

Mrs. Stevens got her first doll house as a little girl in Scotland, which is her family's homeland. Her father came to Granite City in 1919 to work at the Commonwealth plant on State Street.

Her family even sacrificed bringing other belongings on the boat with them when they ventured to the United States so she could bring her doll house.

She has named the new house "Mini Mansion" after her mother Mini O'Hara.

The house features three bedrooms, a completely furnished kitchen with a scale replica of a wood-burning cook stove, a living room, family room, sewing room, writing room and a finished attic room still to be completed.

The exterior is finished with township gray siding with black shutters and white trim. A bay window accents the living room. The windows are all double hung and all of the exterior doors are operable.

The house also has two fireplaces with complete hand-painted exterior chimneys. Landscaping has yet to be done.

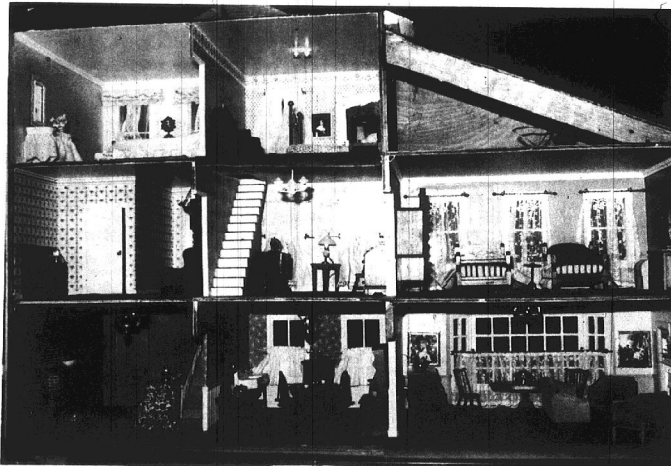

A remarkable feature is the more than 20 working light fixtures including several chandeliers and even porch lights.

Mrs. Stevens has received much help in the intricate scale work from her son-in-law, Robert Werkema. He also is interested in scale work and has electric trains and other hobbies connected with scale building.

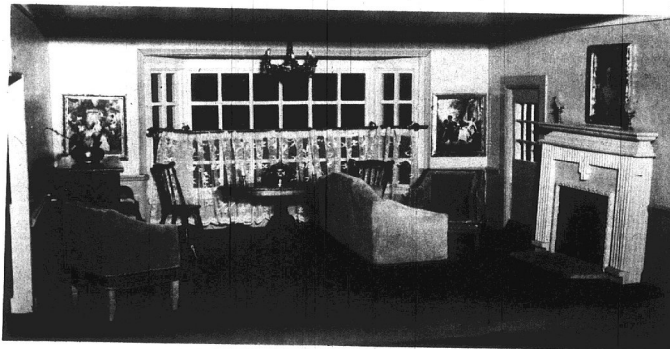

He has put many long hours into the house with meticulous work such as handmade shutters for the exterior and the double hung windows.

Mrs. Stevens is now replacing store-bought tables and chairs and other furnishings with her own handmade pieces of furniture which will make the house even more unique and authentic.

Many hours of work and much money has been spent on the doll house, but Mrs. Stevens enjoys every bit of it. She says that she always has liked doll houses and the memories they bring.

INTERIOR VIEW of the furnished colonial house shows the intricacies and authenticity which is the product of three years work. An exterior view of the doll house was seen in the Nov. 2 issue of the Press-Record.

EXQUISITE DETAIL throughout the house is seen in the living room which features a fireplace, at right, and handmade furniture. Note the tiny chandelier and lace curtains.

Upbeat show on Wednesday

Upbeat, feel-good entertainment will set the pace when Pablo Cruise comes to Soundstage at 9 p.m. Wednesday on Channel 9.

The four-member band has won a growing fan club over the last year with its free-flowing music. Getting started as a backup group for "superstar" bands, Pablo Cruise began stealing the shows and reviews, and quickly won top billing.

With a robust, rhythmic style dubbed "sports rock" by US Magazine, the music of Pablo Cruise has sophistication with a sunshine aura around it. Several of the high-velocity instrumentals have become trademarks for different athletic events. Members Dave Jenkins, Steve Price, Bruce Day and Cory Lerios acknowledge that their own personal involvement in sports and the outdoors is reflected in the music.

Jenkins, lead vocalist and lead guitar, Lerios, vocals and keyboard, Day, bass and vocals, and Price, drums, sing of "Worlds Away" and the "Ocean Breeze." "A Place In The Sun," "Never Had A Love" and "Love Will Find A Way" are among the hits that will fill the hour-long program.

The antithesis of punk rock, the music of Pablo Cruise keeps a positive outlook on the world. In an interview, Jenkins revealed that this optimism is at the root of the group's approach to work and life. He called it "an attitude of living, and a mutual desire to progress musically, spiritually, everywhere we can."

Park district to issue ID cards

Identification photos and cards will be issued Wednesday, Nov. 8, at Wilson Park office, Benton Street and Pehling Road, from 7 to 9 p.m., according to Harold Brown, superintendent of parks.

Those applying for ID's must furnish proof of residence in the park district, such as a current utility bill with the persons name and address shown on the billing.

Cost of the photo and card is $1 and is good for a 3-year period, the superintendent added.

Seek hosts for teenagers from South America

Illinois will be welcoming 45 international students from seven countries in South America this January. They along with about 1,000 other exchange students, are participants in the Youth For Understanding Program.

Presently, 143 Illinois families are hosting YFU international students. Families are still needed for the students arriving in January.

Youth For Understanding would like to have the students placed with families by Dec. 31, so that the student and host family may correspond before the youth arrives.

"Perhaps your family would like to learn more about the world, its cultures, and peoples. If you enjoy teenagers (age 14-18) and would like to share your life with a new son or daughter, then being a host family for an international student may be just the answer," a spokesman commented.

Two of the students needing homes in Illinois are Rodolfo Zira and Lidmilla Tavares. Lira is a 16-year-old boy from Recife, Brazil. His father is an auditor of a state electric company and his mother is a psychologist. He has four brothers and two sisters.

He enjoys soccer, reading, music, TV and horseback riding. His grades are good, with five years of English and four years of German.

Miss Tavares is a 17-year-old from Brasilia, Brazil. Her father is an engineer and her mother is a government employee. She has two sisters and one brother. She enjoys piano, hiking and music.

Her grades are good, with five years of English and 10 years of Portuguese. She looks forward to attending an American high school.

HEAD BREAKS GLASS

Brian Koller, 19, of 2023 Troy Ave., Madison, underwent X-rays at St. Elizabeth Hospital last week after an auto in which he was a passenger was involved in an auto accident and Koller's head went through the windshield. He suffered injuries to his head and neck, but declined to be admitted.

Youngsters' disco class at the 'Y'

A disco dance class for youngsters will be offered at the Tri-City Area YMCA starting Saturday, Nov. 11, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

The classes will be conducted on Saturday mornings in the "Y" auditorium. The age group will be seven years old through 12 years old.

Anyone older may sign up for the regular Wednesday or Sunday classes.

A minimum of 10 and a maximum of 20 will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Cost of the five-hour class is $8 for YMCA members and $12 for non-members.

Dale Gregory will be instructing the class for five consecutive Saturdays. Pre-registration may be obtained by calling the "Y" at 876-7200.

MR. AND MRS. FRED H. BROWN, 637 Margaret Ave., Mitchell, who were honored on their 30th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon, at a reception held in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown mark 30th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Brown, 637 Margaret Ave., were guests of honor at a reception given Sunday in their home, by their children, in observance of their 30th wedding anniversary. They have resided in the Quad-City area for 23 years. Mr. Brown and his wife, the former Betty Jo McWilliams, were married on Nov. 5, 1948, in the chapel of an Air Force Base near Fort Worth, Tex. They were residents of St. Louis prior to moving to this area.

Mr. Brown is a 25-year employee of McDonnell Douglas Corp., and also is a 25-year member of the Machinist Union. He is presently recovering at his home from heart surgery performed at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

The honorees are parents of three children, Mrs. Linda K. Nolan and Carroll E. Brown both of Mitchell, and Bill B. Brown of Granite City. They also have two grandchildren.

Chapter studies jewelry history

"History of Jewelry" taken from the book "Modern Jewelry" depicting styles popular in the 1800's was the subject of a program presented by Mrs. Linda Koenig, members of Chapter XI Epsilon Chi, of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Vicki Thomas in Troy, and following the programs Mrs. Cookie White introduced Mrs. Linda Holtgrave, guest for the evening.

Mrs. Holtgrave hosted a jewelry party and exhibited a variety of rings, necklaces, earrings and many other pieces in conjunction with the program topic.

President Helen Hall was in charge of the business discussions, and Mrs. Barbara Hente gave a report on the sorority City Council meeting. They both distributed tickets for a December ways and means project.

Miss Marilyn Lumpkins, ways and means chairman, gave the traveling basket to Carolyn Walsh and Joan Pritchard, social chairman, announced a Christmas party for member, husbands and guests will be on Dec. 18 at the Cheshire Inn in St. Louis.

Chapter members also attended a second meeting last week hosted by Mrs. Carol Cathey in her home. Joan Pritchard, the 1979 chapter sweetheart, was elected council representative to replace Mrs. Judy Haven who is moving to Virginia, and Candy Thompson was named new service chairman.

Birthdays celebrated at the meeting were those of Barbara Jones and Linda Koenig. A program entitled "Women Behind Mama's Boy" was given by Mrs. Koenig.

Chapter members will participate in ringing bells at Christmas time for the Salvation Army. It was reported by Phyllis Kubelka.

Mrs. Hente invited the group to her home for the next meeting which will feature a formal ritual for Sharon Case. Attending the sessions were Carolyn Walsh, Cookie White, and guests Mrs. Nadine Simpson and Mrs. Terri Asadorian, and the above mentioned.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

WOLF TRAP CONCERT BY MANGIONE TUESDAY

The 6,500 seats at Washington's Wolf Trap Farm Park were sold out weeks in advance this summer for "An Evening with Chuck Mangione," and millions of television viewers throughout the country shared the event through a live telecast. Now the concert returns, airing at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, on Channel 9.

The trumpeter's rapport with his audience is apparent as Mangione leads his quartet and orchestra through a program of his original compositions, often jumping with the intensity of the music. "When the set was hot, it sizzled," wrote a Washington Post reviewer. Featured are selections from "Children of Sanchez," Mangione's musical score for the to-be-released film based on the Oscar Lewis biography of a Mexican family.

Chapter hears Mrs. Tolliver

Mrs. Evelyn Tolliver presented a program on predictions for Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in the 1980's at a meeting of Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter, last week. Members gathered in the home of Mrs. Gloria Jean Druhe, 14 Moorland Drive, with President May Ebling presiding. Reports were given by Jane Laule and Arlene Haldaman. Tickets for the ways and means committee were received from the Sorority City Council and distributed to the chapter. Proceeds will be used to help defray expenses for the February Sweetheart dance. Plans were completed to host a progressive dinner in lieu of the next meeting. Mrs. Druhe requested members to save scanner numbers from packaged items. These will be used to assist with medical expenses of an Alton child suffering from a serious kidney ailment. A report on advances made in diet and treatment for heart patients was given by Mrs. Laule. Dessert and coffee was served by the hostesses to those named and to Imogene Forrest, Ruth Stoyanoff, Martha Jean Dyer, Pat Tsigalaroff. The chapter also hosted a social evening for members at Sonny and Char's Restaurant, last week. Those attending were Mrs. Hilda Foster of St. Louis a guest, and members Dolores Byrnes, Gloria Jean Druhe, May Ebling, Imogene Forrest, Arlene Haldaman, Jane Laule, Ruth Stoyanoff, Evelyn Tolliver, Pat Tsigalaroff and Bea Brackett.

Betty A. York is betrothed

Announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Betty Ann York, a daughter of Mrs. Pauline York, 2808 E. 25th St., and the late James L. York, to Terry L. Butler, by her mother. She is a senior student at Granite City High School South.

The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Butler, 615 Barkley St. Mitchell. He was graduated this year from Granite City High School North and is presently employed at Granite City Steel.

Plans are being completed by the engaged couple for a Jan. 6 wedding to be solemnized at Cedar View General Baptist Church, with the Rev. Rudolph Hickerson officiating.

STATE LOTTERY BOARD WILL MEET IN CAHOKIA

The next monthly meeting of the Illinois State Lottery Control Board will be at 2 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 16, in the Cahokia Village Hall, 101 Main St. This is the first time the Control Board has held its monthly meeting in Cahokia.

The session will be held following the noon drawing of the lottery's weekly winning numbers in the Big Pay Day and Touchdown games. The public is invited to attend both events, the board's executive secretary, Adele Halkin, said.

DIST. NO. 16 — MADISON COUNTY BOARD

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7th, 1978

House Bills 2800 and 2801 sponsored by Senator Sam Vadalabene say that a Township supervisor may also be a County Board member at the same time. These bills passed both houses July 14, 1978 and were signed by the Governor.

☆ 10 years experience supervising and administering honest and efficient government in Chouteau Township.

☆ 8 years experience on the County Board, presently serving on the Road and Bridge Committee, Health Institution Committee, Legislative Committee and Chairman of the County Sewer Committee.

If elected, I will continue to work for the benefit of all of the people, and continue to work full time to get our sewers in operation at the cheapest cost to the users.

Air forums Wednesday and Nov. 14

An air quality public forum sponsored by the East-West Gateway Council at Bishop Althoff High School in Belleville has been rescheduled.

The new date and location are Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Clair County Courthouse, 10 Public Square, Belleville.

Other remaining forums include:

North St. Louis County, Monday, Nov. 6, 7:30 p.m., Florissant Civic Center, 1 Civic Center Drive (Parker and Waterford).

Madison County, Wednesday, Nov. 8, 7:30 p.m., Wood River City Hall, 11 N. Wood River Ave.

2 hurt in crash today

Two men were injured when the car of Martin Reeves, 20, of 221 Delmar Ave., southbound on Kth Street, skidded across East 23rd Street and crashed under a chain-link fence, going upside down into the drainage ditch at 2 a.m. today.

Reeves climbed from the car and then pulled Paul Woodruff, 30, of 2429 E. 23rd St., a passenger, from the vehicle.

Both men were taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where Reeves was treated for abrasions to his left shoulder and left foot and was released. Hospital personnel said Woodruff apparently decided not to seek treatment, since no record could be found.

Police records indicate that 20 minutes earlier, at 1:40 a.m. today, Reeves had been charged by Granite City police with speeding and had been issued a ticket alleging driving 50 miles-per-hour in a 35 mph zone at Namooki Road and Madison Avenue.

Important to vote in tomorrow's general election; 'yes' votes suggested on the three ballot proposals

How important is it that Quad-Cityans take the trouble to cast votes in tomorrow's general election (6 a.m. to 6 p.m. balloting)? Mighty important, because the right of self-government, with free election procedures, marks the chief distinction between our democratic nation and despotic regimes.

Regarding the three proposals to be voted on, the Press-Record has suggested a "Yes" vote on all of them.

On amending Section 5 of Article IX of the Illinois Constitution, the personal property tax question, it is suggested that voters continue the corporate personal property tax for the time being, since no replacement tax has been devised and a hasty attempt to write one before Jan. 1 could be harmful to all taxpayers.

According to the Illinois Economics and Fiscal Commission, Madison County schools and other taxing agencies could lose $13,500,000 a year in needed revenue, a devastating blow.

On amending Section 6 of Article IX, veterans' organizations ask to have their post homes exempted from property taxation.

On a question of public policy to the voters of the State of Illinois, the question is whether there should be legislation and amendments to impose ceilings on taxes and spending by the state, units of local government, and school districts. The issue is advisory in nature and sets no binding or specific limits.

The three "Yes" votes are Numbers 9, 18 and 177.

This newspaper has endorsed certain Democratic, Republican and independent candidates on tomorrow's punchcard voting rolls. They are as follows:

U. S. senator — Charles H. Percy, No. 177.

Anti-incumbent trend?

Collinsville Herald — Every politician who waits in these days bemoans the anti-incumbent trend. "Nobody's talking about the election," was the way one candidate put it.

Traditionally, a light voter turnout is supposed to favor Democrats in Illinois, which has a long lead in registered voters. The theory goes that it takes a lot of excitement, a big turnout of voters of whom a larger than normal percentage will be independents, to elect Republicans statewide.

That is supported by political wisecracks to be the reason big Jim sprang The Thompson Proposition (the capitals are his) on the voters. The theory goes that he would attract the independent voters to the polls by cashing in on the Proposition 13 anti-tax sentiment.

His opponent, Mike Bakalis, promptly labeled it Proposition Zero, scoffed at it as a useless straw vote.

It asks voters if they would like less government, less taxes and lower taxes. A politician who didn't already know that would have to be too stupid to qualify for Hollywood.

Dave Robinson and the Illinois Education Association took a lot of the time off big Jim's proposition when they exposed the phony names and fraudulent affidavits used on many petitions.

Something is going to give. The first thing may be a lot of comfortable incumbents.

That's the hope of Democrats in the four General Assembly districts. That's the hope of voters who dump Thompson and Senator Charles Percy.

How do you tell them, they have their own incumbent, Alan Dixon, that they hope to save. He seems to have a long lead over his woman opponent.

We have been surprised at the lack of interest in the legislative races in the 56th and 55th districts.

The unusual Joe Lucco third party candidate ought to excite voters against the other two.

It isn't likely to bring out a big wave of new voters. That's the hope of Democrats in the four General Assembly districts. That's the hope of voters who dump Thompson and Senator Charles Percy.

Undercover work part of enforcement

To the Editor:

I would like to respond to the questions asked as they appeared in a letter to the editor Nov. 2 in the Press-Record.

"Exactly how long have you lived in Madison County? Isn't it a little over a year?"

With the exception of two years in Springfield, I am a lifetime resident of the area. I grew up in the Dupu area. Prior to joining the Illinois Bureau of Investigation, I lived in Alton for four years while attending school there.

2. "When was the last time you were in a patrol car in uniform?" I have never been required to wear a uniform. The FBI was patterned after the FBI, which does not wear uniforms, either.

If I am elected sheriff, I do not intend to wear a uniform. I was in a squad car the day before I began campaigning full-time, three and one half months ago. How long has it been since my opponent was in a squad car? Over four years?

3. "Have you ever been in an administrative capacity with a large number of men under your supervision?" I was the special agent in charge of the Belleville office of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation for a period of time. At the time, the jurisdiction of that office included St. Clair County and the seven surrounding counties, including Madison County.

Prior to coming into the field of law enforcement, I taught school for eight years and supervised several hundred students at one time.

4. "Aren't you aware Enil Toffant has been cooperating with the FBI in this Madison County investigation?" No. He has been retired for the past four years.

5. "Aren't you aware that in the year 1957, when you were still in high school, Captain Toffant formed and was in charge of the District 20 Squad for the Illinois State Police?" I am not aware of the exact starting date nor the specific responsibilities mentioned. The point I've attempted to make is that the criminal laws have changed since 1957.

We need a sheriff who knows what the laws are now, not what they were in 1957. The FBI was formed in 1908 to meet these specific needs because they were not otherwise being met.

6. "Mr. Bibby, you say Capt. Toffant would waste money by supplying police cars with a deputy. Isn't it true you are furnished car by the state in which you drive to and from work? Also, since your car applies to State Police, and the system seems to work well."

Yes, as an FBI Agent I had a car to keep 24 hours a day. But the point is that there is no money available through federal funding and it is doubtful that the county of Madison has a spare half million laying around to pay for cars.

This was simply one of the points I wanted to debate my opponent about. Specifically, I wanted to know where the money was going to come from. 7. "Isn't it true that the Republican party approached Capt. Toffant to run first, and that you were second choice?"

That is absolutely false. And I didn't decide to run until Toffant announced that he was a candidate. Toffant's running for the first factor that made me decide to run.

8. "You seem to harp on Capt. Toffant's education. When was the last time you went through a world war and depression, financially supported your family in a law education, and have been in education."

9. "Did you know we have had at least two presidents of the United States who did not have college educations? Ever hear of Harry S. Truman and Abe Lincoln?"

Questions 8 and 9 need to be answered together. While age and education are a part of the overall picture, I have never attempted to make key issues of them alone. After all, no one just gave them to me.

I had to work hard for them and much of it was done as an adult. My father, who is the same age as my opponent, went to school while holding down two full-time jobs.

10. "Mr. Bibby, have you read Capt. Toffant's list of qualifications carefully, and if so how can you even dream of competing with him? Each candidate has his own qualifications. I believe that a modern-day sheriff must be highly trained in modern law enforcement techniques including investigation, undercover work and administration."

This is only one area where I feel that I am more qualified. It is not easy campaigning in a highly Democratic county, such as Madison County, as a Republican.

There is no private life. There are constant criticism, constant misquoting, and constant misconceptions.

But my dedication to honest and effective law enforcement led me to put my private life aside and family aside, and do something to change the office to a good one.

Thank you for the opportunity to respond.

Edwardsville Intelligencer — Sen. Sam Vadalabene is the best choice of the four candidates running for the 56th District's state Senate seat.

His opponent, Gladys Lewis of Collinsville, has not thought seriously about the variety of issues facing the state.

In every state legislature there are senators and representatives who conceive and initiate bills and there are those who take the work of others and push it through. For the most part, the work falls into the latter group.

In fact, he is one of the most adept individuals in the legislature for moving bills through to passage.

In most instances that works to the advantage of district residents.

By developing a reputation as a ramrod for legislation, Vadalabene has made it easier to get bills he believes the district needs through the Senate and House.

One of the strongest criticisms that can be leveled at Vadalabene is that he takes on too much legislation during a session.

At times it appears as though he is willing to work too closely with the special interest groups that frequent statehouse lobbies.

But in general Vadalabene has done well for the district. He is an avid regionalist. However, he has indicated a willingness to look beyond district boundaries when the well being of the state is at stake.

Diversity needed on university board

To the Editor:

The election of the University of Illinois trustees Nov. 7 takes on special significance this year. As a former board member and president, I can appreciate the responsibility thrust on this nine-member board governing body for our fine university.

This board oversees an annual operating budget of $750 million, a huge physical plant, 25,000 employees and of course one of our state's greatest assets — 55,000 students.

I am particularly concerned that voters weigh the merits of the three Republican candidates and vote for them for several reasons:

1. The present board is composed of six Democrats and the three Republicans seeking re-election: Park Livingston, La Grange; Ralph C. Hahn, Springfield; and Jane Hayes Rader, Cobden.

Should these three not be re-elected, the university would be 100 percent under one-party control. This presents a problem, a lack of the traditional checks-and-balances.

Another potential problem is that a one-party board would be dealing with a bi-partisan General Assembly and a Republican governor.

2. The new board will have the huge responsibility of choosing the next president because of the announced resignation of President John E. Corbally. Mr. Livingston and Mr. Hahn are the only board members who have participated in the re-election process. Their experience in selecting a president should not be lost to the Board of Trustees.

3. In a university community, I believe a diversity of opinions, beliefs and philosophies should exist. Likewise, there should be a diversity of political beliefs on a university governing board.

4. I believe it is of more than routine interest to the best interests of taxpayers and the university that the board remain a two-party governing body, and that incumbents Mr. Hahn, Mr. Livingston and Mrs. Rader be re-elected for a six-year term each.

Wins and losses in the game of life

To the Editor:

Recently, on a bright sunny Sunday, I witnessed one of the most encouraging things I have seen and heard in a long time.

A team of young soccer players had just been awarded an alternative to the rest of their life.

"There should be no joy in winning or losing. It's how you play that counts."

"You don't blame others for giving up and you don't blame others for losing. You win or lose on your own terms."

"The referees never decide who is going to win or lose; you do. Most of all, you don't give up."

"You play the game no matter what the odds. You never quit."

You see, the other coach had forfeited the game because he didn't like the referees.

Well, the coach paused again, the boys sitting there attentively listening. And he smiled as he further stated:

"We play the game. We win the game or we lose the game, no matter who the referees are, and remember that for the rest of your life."

Good words, Ruben Mendoza. You told me like it is!

You can get in touch with Joe even after the election. He cares. If you don't believe it, call him.

By developing a reputation as a ramrod for legislation, Vadalabene has made it easier to get bills he believes the district needs through the Senate and House.

One of the strongest criticisms that can be leveled at Vadalabene is that he takes on too much legislation during a session.

At times it appears as though he is willing to work too closely with the special interest groups that frequent statehouse lobbies.

But in general Vadalabene has done well for the district. He is an avid regionalist. However, he has indicated a willingness to look beyond district boundaries when the well being of the state is at stake.

Mrs. Lewis, on the other hand has not indicated the ability to look beyond one issue, the Equal Rights Amendment.

She is a staunch ERA supporter. That is a legitimate

But a state senator must be prepared to deal with many other issues.

Conversations with Mrs. Lewis make it apparent she is not prepared to deal with many issues.

When topics other than ERA are raised, Mrs. Lewis has not given them much consideration.

But my dedication to honest and effective law enforcement led me to put my private life aside and family aside, and do something to change the office to a good one.

Thank you for the opportunity to respond.

ROBERT BIBBY
Republican candidate for sheriff

Edwardsville Intelligencer — Sen. Sam Vadalabene is the best choice of the four candidates running for the 56th District's state Senate seat.

His opponent, Gladys Lewis of Collinsville, has not thought seriously about the variety of issues facing the state.

In every state legislature there are senators and representatives who conceive and initiate bills and there are those who take the work of others and push it through. For the most part, the work falls into the latter group.

In fact, he is one of the most adept individuals in the legislature for moving bills through to passage.

Dixon inventories all state records

A new publication, "Descriptive Inventory of the Archives of the State of Illinois," is now available for distribution. Secretary of State and State Archivist Alan J. Dixon has announced.

It contains a list of all Illinois records in the State Archives from 1722 to the present.

In loose leaf binder form, along with a supplementary index, the publication will be updated every two years.

"It is the most thorough guide to any state archives in the United States," Dixon said.

"Records concern the history, censuses, land titles, public finances, laws and legal rights of citizens throughout the state."

The list of available archives is expected to be of particular interest to libraries, state universities and colleges, historical and genealogical societies and individual researchers. The 1,500 copies printed are each priced at $20, including the index and future updating.

Dixon said the publication covers 17,000 cubic feet of papers and more than 14,000 bound volumes.

He pointed out that in addition to complete control of all records in the archives, the project eliminated duplication and material of no value. And it added considerable storage area for future records.

Environmental student trips

A one-week canoe trip down the Big Muddy River to one of Illinois' natural wonders heads a list of three environmental workshops offered high school students this fall.

The Big Muddy and Pine Hills wilderness workshop, scheduled for Nov. 19 to 24, will include a canoe trip down the historic Big Muddy River, nature hikes through the Pine Hills Wilderness Area, Little Swamp and the Little Grand Canyon and six days of tent camping in some of the state's most scenic locations.

The trip will be led by SIUC zoology, wildlife management and forestry experts, according to Jerry Cullen, coordinator of environmental workshops for the Touch of Nature Environmental Center.

Tents, canoes, sleeping bags and cooking utensils will be furnished. Cost of the workshop is $100.

A natural resource utilization workshop is scheduled for Nov. 9 to 12 at the 6,500-acre environmental center near Little Grassy Lake. The workshop will include nature hikes, canoe trips, bird walks and orienteering.

Participants will visit Giant City State Park, the Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge and the Shawnee National Forest. They will reside at Touch of Nature during the four-day program. Cost is $55.

A wildlife management workshop Nov. 30 to Dec. 3 will give participants a look at the wide variety of wildlife management techniques used at the Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge, Giant City State Park and Touch of Nature.

Workshop participants will reside at Touch of Nature. Cost is $60.

According to Cullen, many students who attend the environmental workshops are able to obtain scholarships from Soil and Water Conservation Districts, the Isaac Walton League, the Sierra Club or other community organizations.

For information, Cullen can be contacted at the Touch of Nature Environmental Center, SIUC at Carbondale 62901 (telephone (618) 457-0348).

The Tri-City American Legion Post 113 will host activities in observance of Veterans' Day Saturday, Nov. 11, in Granite City, according to Commander Paul Weathers of the local post.

This year's observance will mark the 60th anniversary of the signing of the armistice which ended World War I. Commander Weathers explained as he urged a communitywide expression of patriotism as part of the holiday's celebration.

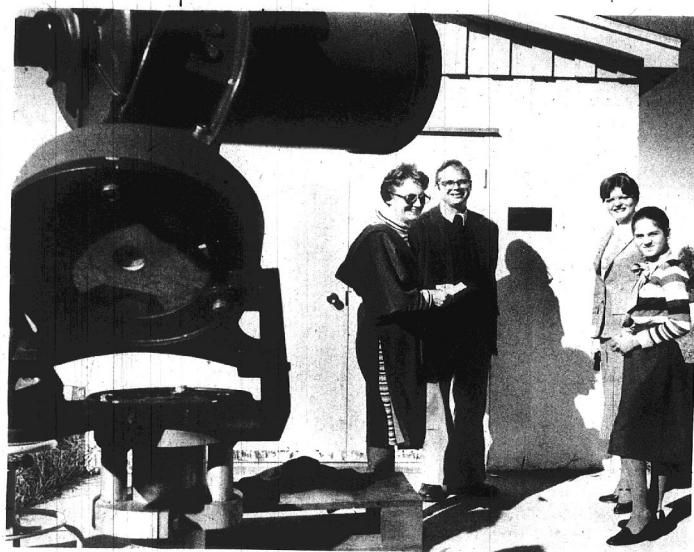

This year also marks the return to Nov. 11 for the designation of the national holiday after seven years of having it occur on the fourth Monday in October. However, negative public reaction to the new date for the holiday prompted Congress to restore Veterans' Day to the traditional date of Nov. 11, the commander added.

Commander Weathers said a large parade in Edwardsville will be held at 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

Veteran's Day also is a special target date in the Legion's 1979 membership campaign. Commander Weathers said. He invited war veterans of the Quad-Cities to join Post 113 and become a part of its activities and programs which support this year's theme of the Legion — "We Dare To Care."

Terrell honored

Bill H. Terrell, area manager in Granite City for the Franklin Life Insurance Co., Springfield, has been qualified for one of the company's top sales awards, according to Franklin President William J. Alley.

Terrell earned his fifteenth qualification for Franklin's Key Club, comprising a select group of company associates who produce extremely high personal sales within a 60-day period. Announcement of Terrell's accomplishment was featured in the November issue of the Franklin Field, the company's national publication. Extremely active in civic affairs, Terrell has served in various leadership capacities with local United Way and Rotary. An article written by Terrell, "Why Community Service?", was featured in Field.

The 94-year-old Franklin firm is one of the world's largest life insurance institutions, with assets in excess of $2 billion and over $12 billion of insurance in force.

Thomas V. Salas, 24, of 1035 Kaseberg Lane, Ponton Beach, was arrested at his home last week and was charged with battery and resisting arrest.

Robert Hayes, manager of the Leader Department Store on Nameski Road, alleged Salas came in to talk to him about a credit application and became very angry over slow processing of the application. Hayes alleged the man used profane language and when the manager picked up a telephone to call police, the man struck him with a fist, knocking him into another employee.

He suffered a cut to his nose. The man then left the store and Hayes gave police a name and address from the credit application.

Granite City and Ponton Beach officers went to his home and alleged he resisted attempt to arrest him and force was necessary to restrain him.

ACID DAMAGES CAR

Fleet average in fuel economy tallies puts emphasis on sales of small cars

(Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corp.) The familiar "MPG" and the less-known "CAFE" have a lot in common in automotive circles but they are not the same. They are not interchangeable terms.

The symbol MPG means "miles per gallon," and CAFE means literally "Corporate Average Fuel Economy" or average miles per gallon.

It would seem that to total individual MPG's and divide by the number of cars involved would result in the corporate average fuel economy on average miles per gallon. Unfortunately, it is not that simple and doesn't work that way.

To explain: miles per gallon is the expression used to specify fuel economy of an individual car; CAFE is the fuel economy calculation based on the manufacturer's total vehicle production and the fuel consumption of all the vehicles sold in a given model year.

Chevrolet Director of Engineering Robert C. Stempel puts it this way: "Fuel economy is based on fuel consumption, gallons-mile, not the familiar miles per gallon. Consumption (gallons-mile) is the correct measuring method."

"To further explain," said Stempel, "consider this hypothetical case:

A 20 MPG vehicle and a 40 MPG vehicle would average 30 MPG using the miles per gallon formula. This is simply 20 plus 40 divided by two.

Now consider the CAFE formula:

Assume that each vehicle is actually driven 100 miles. The 20 MPG vehicle would use five gallons of gasoline for its 100 miles, and the 40 MPG vehicle would consume 2.5 gallons of gasoline in traveling 100 miles.

Add the five and 2.5 for a total of 7.5 gallons of gasoline used by the two vehicles in traveling 200 miles. Divide the 200 miles by 7.5 gallons and we get 26.67 miles per gallon.

"So we now see that the 'fleet' average, or the combined average of the two vehicles, is 26.67 MPG, not 30 MPG as incorrectly indicated by averaging the individual car's MPG ratings."

"In a current example, take a Chevrolet Caprice with an EPA City rating of 18 MPG, and a Chevrolet with an EPA City rating of 29 MPG."

"The EPA is reporting only one fuel economy number for each vehicle year 1979; but the CAFE is based on both city and highway fuel economy numbers using a weighted average of the two, usually referred to as the combined or 55-45 value. For CAFE, the Caprice is rated 18 MPG and the Chevrolet 34 MPG.

Add the Caprice's 18 MPG and the Chevrolet's 34 MPG for a total of 52 MPG and divide by two for 26 average MPG. The CAFE is, however, only 23.5. This is based on the consumption figure.

"The Caprice will consume 5.5 gallons of gasoline on a 100-mile trip; the Chevrolet will consume 2.94 gallons covering the same distance. This is a combined 8.5 gallons for the 200 miles. Divide the combined mileage by the total gasoline used and you get 23.5 miles per gallon fleet average."

Now that CAFE is better understood, the question is, what effect does it have on the manufacturer?

One obvious answer, according to Stempel, is that more fuel-efficient small cars will have to be manufactured and sold to average 19 MPG, which the government has mandated for 1979 model cars.

To show how this calculation applies to production volumes, Stempel again used a hypothetical example as follows, using MPG and their CAFE:

1. 20 MPG vehicle...1,000 units produced and 40 MPG vehicle...1,000 units produced, 30.0, 26.7.
2. 20 MPG vehicle...1,000 units produced and 40 MPG vehicle...1,200 units produced, 30.9, 27.5.
3. 18 MPG vehicle...1,000 units produced and 40 MPG vehicle...1,200 units produced, 30.0, 25.7.
4. 18 MPG vehicle...1,000 units produced and 40 MPG vehicle...1,700 units produced, 31.9, 27.5.

In example 2, Stempel pointed out, "The manufacturer must produce 1.2 40 MPG vehicles for each 20 MPG vehicle for his production average fuel economy to achieve 27.5 MPG, not equal amounts as shown in Example 1."

"If the 20 MPG vehicle rating slipped 2 MPG to 18, as in Example 4, the manufacturer would be required to sell 1.7 40 MPG vehicles for each 18 MPG vehicle to achieve the 27.5 MPG. "And you will notice that using the MPG calculation results in the average fleet economy increasing while the actual fuel economy decreases, a nice but impossible situation."

BAC students outperform other transfer groups

Belleville Area College transfer students did better on the average than all other transfers and native students at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb during the spring 1978 term.

BAC transfer students achieved a mean cumulative grade point average of 2.91 compared to averages of 2.72 for other community college transfers from Illinois and 2.40 for all other transfers. Native undergraduates of Northern Illinois University had a mean cumulative average of 2.71.

Dr. Weldon Tarrant, vice-president for student development at BAC, explains that transfer students at the state's universities normally have a better cumulative grade point average at those institutions than do native students, since only those who have completed one or two years of college generally transfer.

The university's cumulative average for all its undergraduates includes averages for students who will eventually drop out.

"You can see how the figures are weighted in favor of transfer students," Tarrant said. "However, BAC students were ahead of other transfer students in their averages, and we feel that this is reason for pride."

The Coalition for Political Honesty has attracted bipartisan support from legislative candidates and incumbents for its Illinois Initiative constitutional amendment, including State Representatives Joe Lucco and Everett Steele. Patrick Quinn, Coalition spokesman, has released a list of more than 80 legislators and candidates who have pledged to co-sponsor the proposal. It would allow Illinois citizens to pass binding laws by petition and referendum. Quinn said the number of positive responses "assures Illinois citizens that full-fledged initiative power will be debated in the next session of the General Assembly. "This is just the beginning of a statewide grassroots campaign to rally public support for the power of direct democracy." Currently, Illinois law only permits citizens to petition to place advisory referendums on a statewide ballot. "The people of our state have the common sense and good judgment to vote intelligently on issues that affect their lives and pocketbooks," Quinn stressed.

Armed man robs tavern

An armed robber at 11:55 p.m. Sunday entered Jeanne's French Quarters, 925 Grand Ave., holding a pistol.

The robber first demanded a bag of potato chips and then said, "Give me all your money."

He took $2 from a customer at the bar, $65 from the cash register and a small television.

The armed robber was described as about 20 years of age, wearing blue jeans and a red and white hat.

He reportedly fled on foot, heading south on Grand Avenue.

Granite City police are attempting to determine if the robber is the same man who took about $2 from a Madison Man at 17th Street and Grand Avenue 45 minutes earlier.

Fay Liddell, 405 Madison Ave., Madison, reported he was approaching Curt's Grill when a man approached him from behind, grabbed the back of his coat collar and placed a small blue-steel pistol to Liddell's head.

The gunman ordered Liddell not to turn around, or he would be shot. Liddell said he was walked to the alley behind 1704 Grand Ave., where the gunman demanded his wallet and searched through it.

Finding no money in the wallet, the robber threw it on the ground and then took about $2 small change from Liddell's pocket. He fled on foot and Liddell said he never saw the man's face.

Dies in crash

Robert Lee McDonald, 20, of 3800 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, was killed early Sunday morning when his motorcycle ran off Illinois Route 4, one mile south of U.S. 40 and hit a fence, according to Illinois State police.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by Jim Laughlin, a Madison County deputy coroner from Troy at 7:55 a.m.

J. D. Smith, a farmer, discovered the body and the wrecked motorcycle at 7:30 a.m. Sunday.

Born in St. Louis, Mr. McDonald lived here all of his life.

He is believed to have been returning home from Lebanon when the accident occurred on what police described as a very sharp curve.

For the past two years he was a welder at the A. O. Smith Co. in Granite City.

He formerly attended Granite City High School North. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Myrtle McDonald of Granite City; two brothers, Robert Edward McDonald of Freeburg, Ill., and Gary Wayne McDonald of Granite City. Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

Rites held for Leroy Harper

Funeral services were held Sunday at Canaan Galilee Baptist Church, Madison, for Leroy Harper, 56, of 204 Terry St., Madison.

He died Thursday, Nov. 2, at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

Mr. Harper was employed by General Motors Corp. and was a World War II veteran.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth; three sons, Eddie R. Harper and Lloyd Harper, both of East St. Louis, and James Harper of Madison; a daughter, Mrs. Pilot Cook of Nettleton, Miss.; and a sister, Mrs. Mary Jane Dillworth of Harvey, Ill.

Inflation-fighting move by Ill. Bell

Illinois Bell announced Thursday afternoon that it is voluntarily reducing its request for higher rates by $82 million in support of President Jimmy Carter's anti-inflation program. The company told the Illinois Commerce Commission at hearings Thursday in Springfield that its request for $10 million would result in a 5.25 percent increase in Illinois Bell's total revenues, well within the presidential price guidelines.

"President Carter said that no one would want to be the first to forego full price increases," Illinois Bell President Charles Marshall said. "Today we said that we're willing to be among the first to make that move."

The company's original request, filed Dec. 28, 1977, was for rate increases totaling $192 million to offset inflation-caused cost increases.

No increases were sought for most basic local calling rates or direct-dialed long distance calls. Most of the increases are for services which the customer has the choice of using.

"We've worked hard to hold the line on expenses by doing our jobs efficiently," Marshall said. "We sincerely hope that President Carter's program works. Frankly, we're taking a calculated risk in heeding the president's call for lower price increases."

"While consumer goods and services in general have risen 75 percent since 1969, telephone prices have risen an average of only 28 percent. Telephone service is still a bargain and we want to keep it that way."

"We sought higher rates only as a last resort, in order to continue providing high-quality phone service."

"We needed all that we asked for at the beginning of this case. We hope the reduction will be understood by investors as a necessary step to help fight inflation."

Illinois Bell asserted during the current rate hearings before the commission that higher rates are required to recover more fully the costs of installation and certain other services, and to help finance additional cost-saving technology.

The Illinois Commerce Commission will determine which of the company's proposed rate changes should be trimmed or excluded to meet the price guidelines.

The company's construction budget to expand and improve telephone service is $566 million this year.

To maintain this level of investment, the company said, higher earnings in the range of 10.5 to 11 percent are needed to meet competitive standards of outside investors.

The scaled-down request would result in a 9.9 percent return, as the commission calculates it.

Illinois Bell earnings are currently about 8.5 percent, below the 8.97 percent level found to be fair and reasonable by the Illinois Commerce Commission in May 1977.

TORCH CLUB PLEDGE (totaling $190,000) is accepted by the United Way 1978 fall campaign chairman William P. Donovan, third from left, Wednesday during the final report meeting of this year's campaign. The meeting was held in the Officers' Club at the Granite City Army Installation. From left, representing the Granite City Steel Torch Club, are Carl Baczanski, chairman of the club; Norman Garrett, secretary; Donovan; Stan Banaszak, a trustee of the club presenting the check and recording secretary of the International Chemical Workers Union Local 50; and Paul Costello, assistant treasurer of the Torch Club. The pledge represents an 11 percent increase in giving over last year.

More acid on autos

Ed Werner, 2254 Cleveland Blvd., reported that on Friday, Oct. 27, between 9 p.m. and midnight, while his 1976 station wagon was parked on Fehling Road, someone poured an unknown substance, believed to be acid, on the hood, damaging the paint on his vehicle.

Michael Lansaw, 34, Mooreland Drive, reported that while attending a Granite City High School South football game, Oct. 27 acid was thrown on the hood of his 1975 Ford and also on the left front fender.

DRIVER HOSPITALIZED

Ronald Burcham, 24, of 2036 Washington Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital last week after being injured in an auto accident. He suffered cuts to his chin and tongue and pain to his head and left forearm.

Police seeking man with gun

Granite City police are searching for a man who allegedly threatened two Granite City residents and reached for a gun at 20th Street and Madison Avenue at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Steve Wilson, 1916 Benton St., said he and Tami Myers, 811 Iowa St., Madison, were driving south on Madison Avenue and a blue Opel in front of their car was driving slowly and the driver was applying his brakes frequently.

At the stop light, both drivers got out of their autos and an argument ensued. The driver of the Opel threatened to shoot Wilson and reached for a gun in his back pocket.

Wilson said he then got in his car and drove from the area. He described the man with the gun as about 25 to 26 years old, about 6 foot, 1 inch tall, thin and having short brown hair.

Venice fire cause may go to grand jury

U.S. Attorney Gerald D. Pines has received reports from the FBI concerning the suspected arson of a home in Venice on Oct. 7.

The home at 1242 Robin St. was destroyed by fire after Percy and Queen Wade paid a $500 down payment to Roland Cagle, of Granite City, owner of the house.

The suspected arson has been claimed to be racial as the house was in a predominantly white section of the city. The Wades are black.

Pines said that the reports from the FBI are under study at this time. He indicated that the case may be turned over to a federal grand jury.

Iceland isn't all that icy, Travelers told

By ALFRED E. KRUMSIEK

A journey to Iceland and Greenland was described to Travelers Abroad by Mrs. Della Aulabaugh, who visited the lands in July.

Landing at Reykjavik, the most northerly metropolis in the world, Mrs. Aulabaugh discovered at once that this city of 80,000 inhabitants is completely smokeless, for all buildings are heated by natural hot water from the ground, channeled by an elaborate network of pipes.

The supply of hot water is so great that many outdoor swimming pools are warm enough for swimming in cold weather. And in numerous greenhouses, vegetables are raised which would never grow in the open.

Among the 800 hot springs, there is one which emits forty gallons of water per second. The average temperature of the water is 167 degrees Fahrenheit.

Mrs. Aulabaugh showed many pictures of geysers, which range from spouting springs to the "Great Geysir" in South Iceland. It ejects a water column to a height of 180 feet.

It is from this Great Geysir that the international word geyser is derived.

Considering the northerly location of Iceland, said Mrs. Aulabaugh, the climate is much milder than might be expected, especially in winter.

In Reykjavik, the average temperature in January is 31 degrees Fahrenheit. In July, it is 52 degrees.

The many sudden variations in Iceland's climate have given rise to the popular sayings, "We have no weather in Iceland, only samples" and "If you don't like our weather, just wait a minute."

Iceland is located in the boundary zone between two different air currents, the polar and the tropical. It is also at the confluence of two ocean currents, the Gulf Stream and the East Greenland Polar Current.

A third element is the Arctic drift ice, borne by the Polar Current.

Numerous photographs were shown of chunks of ice, some small and some as big as a house, all drifting gently by and causing considerable fall in the temperature.

Iceland leads the world not only in hot springs and geysers, but also in active volcanoes. Because there have been volcanic eruptions for ages, the interior of Iceland consists of barren mountains and high plateaus devoid of human habitation.

The largest unbroken lava field is about 1,800 square miles in extent.

Many eruptions are predictable and, in effect, harmless; Mrs. Aulabaugh showed several photos of people nonchalantly seated on the ground, watching the rapid flow of molten lava from a volcano a few miles distant.

The 200,000 inhabitants of Iceland are chiefly of Scandinavian descent. They speak a modified form of Danish, and are mostly Lutherans. They have an excellent school system, including a university, she said. Many young people are given scholarships to study in Denmark.

Since 1918, they have been independent of Denmark, and have their own republican government. Their greatest industry is fishing.

There are no Eskimos in Iceland, but Greenland has a large number, although they are a minority.

The first white settlers in Greenland were Icelandic farmers led by Erik the Red, father of Leif Erikson, in 985 A.D.

Several photographs of the ruins of Erik's original settlements were shown.

In the summer, the temperature occasionally reaches 88 degrees and there are four or five weekly plane departures from Denmark. Nevertheless, the population is sparse and the country is controlled by Denmark.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bassett of Vienna, Mo. and Josiah Cooper III of Belleville.

Ticket sale for dance to aid crippled

Tickets are on sale at Michel Jewelry and State Radio for the eighth annual dinner dance of the Granite City Society for Crippled Children Nov. 18.

$225 THEFT FROM CAR

A $75 lace player and a black briefcase containing about $150 worth of cosmetology equipment were stolen from the auto of Kim Seesholtz, 2115 Dawn Ave., parked at the rear of Hub Drugs, 1320 Nineteenth St., it was discovered at 6:10 a.m. Friday.

Hearing Tests Set For Senior Citizens

Granite City — Electronic hearing tests will be given at the new Bellone Hearing Aid Service branch office Wednesday from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Factory-trained Hearing Aid Specialists will be at this branch office at Skott's Jewelry & Card Shop, 1304 Niedringhaus, Granite City, to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or is one which can be helped. Some of the causes of hearing loss will be explained, and diagrams of how the hearing test is conducted.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out whether the latest methods of hearing correction can help them hear better.

The free hearing tests will be given every Wednesday from 10:00 p.m. at Skott's Jewelry & Card Shop, 1304 Niedringhaus, Granite City. If you can't get there on Wednesday, call 876-6414 and arrange for an appointment at another time. In-home testing is also available.

Car wash burglary

An undetermined amount of cash, cigarettes and motor oil were stolen during a burglary at the Pep Car Wash, 3318 N. Main St., between 9:00 p.m. Thursday and 5:30 a.m. Friday.

A padlock was pried from a door to gain entry. The safe then was pried open, the tumblers and handle were knocked off and the money was removed.

The cigarettes were taken from the office, where a desk also was ransacked. An inventory is to be conducted to determine if anything else is missing.

Finest Quality, Beautifully Decorated Ironstone

"Gracious" . . . a beautiful pattern of American ironstone dinnerware from the Homer Laughlin China Company.

You will find it a delight to set your table with "Gracious" ironstone . . . its fashion-right floral pattern in warm brown and deep golden yellow tones on an earthy oatmeal color background makes it a pleasure to use.

This fine ironstone dinnerware is freezer, oven and micro wave oven safe. Its sturdy semi mat glaze assures a long life for the lovely pattern. It will endure for years and years of use with endless trips through the dishwasher.

The superb craftsmanship and generous shapes of this beautiful dinnerware blend to give you a table setting worthy of the most gracious hostess.
